VOLUME FIVE

---

JAMES H. McGUIRE
Editor-in-Chief

PAUL M. CHRISTIAN, JR.
Business Manager

As education has progressed through the ages and reflected the advancement of man's knowledge and achievement; we too are attempting to portray the progress and achievements of the Georgia Evening College during the years of 1937-38 in this, the fifth issue of the NOCTURNE.

If this volume presents some tangible evidence of the progress of the Georgia Evening College, the staff of the NOCTURNE feels that its efforts will have been worth while.

ACTIVITIES

---

Activities in the Evening College are comprehensive in their scope, embracing practically all of the various kinds of organizations — these organizations, whose purposes and memberships are recorded in this Year-book, have continued to contribute to the welfare and growth of the Evening College. To them, for the great part they have played and for the honors they have brought to this College, we owe our deepest appreciation.

---

STUDENT

ALBERT CLARK

The Student Council was organized to coordinate class activities and to encourage a class understanding between students and the faculty. It is the purpose of the Student Council to express the will of the majority of the Student Body through the guidance of Student Activities; to strive toward an ever closer understanding between Faculty and Students, and to work toward the betterment and growth of the Evening College and its students.

WM. P. LAYTON
Coach

The Georgia Evening College Basket Ball Team has been most successful in the various games and tournaments in which it has participated. They completed the 1938 season as Atlanta City Champions.

At the present time basket ball is the major inter-collegiate sport in which the Evening College participates.

An intramural basket ball tournament was held by the Evening College for the first time this year. The tournament was won by the Senior Class and aroused much interest throughout the college.
