DEDICATION

To Miss Julie, for her never-ending helpfulness on our last-minute problems when we plan parties at the lodge, for her pride in keeping things orderly so that we are proud to invite friends to the school lodge, for putting up with our noise and confusion, and for being so very considerate when our parties run late, the 1951 Rampway is dedicated.

All of us have at one time or another spent an evening at the lodge, enjoying the comfortable, homey atmosphere which Miss Julie has given to it. She completely furnished the lodge when it was first obtained by the school for outside activities. We sincerely appreciate her efforts in our behalf.

Always Welcome.

Foreword

THE 1951 RAMPWAY

This, the fifth edition of the combined yearbooks of the Atlanta Division, University of Georgia, was made possible by the help and the cooperation of the students and faculty of the college.

Although most of the actual work was performed by no more than a dozen individuals, the book you are now reading would have been an impossibility had it not been for the fine spirit of the student body, and the faculty in supporting the Mardi Gras, the sale of the book, the endless task of identifying pictures, and the "Rampway Follies." Your genuine interest in the book has been the guiding light to all of us, the RAMPWAY Staff, to exert every effort to give you not only the largest annual in the history of the college, but also the best annual.

New features of the 1951 RAMPWAY are the addition of the "Who's Who" section, special pages for both library and office personnel "at work"; a fine arts section, both music and art; and under activities, the Alumni Association and the Baptist Student Union. These along with the enlarged sections of classes, features, activities, organizations, and advertisements make up the two hundred eighty pages of the RAMPWAY.

DR. GEORGE M. SPARKS

Dr. George M. Sparks, a former war correspondent, has brought college education to thousands of Georgia boys and girls through the development of the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia. He was born at Quitman, Georgia on November 19, 1889. He attended Mercer University where he received his A.B., M.A., and LL.D. degrees. He did graduate work at Emory University, Georgia Tech, George Washington University, and Oxford, England. While at Mercer, he was active in religious and sports activities as well as being editor of the college paper.

Dr. Sparks started his career as physical education director for the Macon Y.M.C.A. Later, he became cub reporter, sports editor and state editor of the Macon Telegraph. He served as a war correspondent for the Atlanta Constitution, the Associated Press, Macon Telegraph, Savannah News, Albany Herald, and Columbus Ledger. During World War I he became Washington correspondent for the Atlanta Constitution and Macon Telegraph. He then worked with the Washington Times, became city editor for the Telegraph, and instructor in the School of Journalism of Mercer. On September 16, 1922 romance found its way into his busy life when he married Miss Mary Booth of Fitzgerald. At the age of thirty, Dr. Sparks made Who's Who in America. In 1924 he became a teacher of Journalism at Georgia School of Technology where he later was placed in charge of the Tech Evening School. Under his capable leadership the school grew into what now is known as the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia.

This interesting college began with one hundred sixty students, eleven professors and a sixty-five book library. Today, the college has grown to a strength of six thousand students, two hundred professors, and a large library. The college continued to expand until it outgrew three buildings. It was then moved to the present location in 1946.

The college is unique because it provides a college education for working men and women as well as boys and girls. Its student body consists of students of all ages and all works of life. Some are day students who work and some who work during the day attend school at night. While these students are completing their degrees, they receive valuable experience in their daily work in the field of business. The faculty is made up of well qualified, full-time professors and competent part-time instructors from the business and professional world. These teachers under the leadership of Dr. Sparks are making a distinct contribution to the education of the great throng of students who attend the college. Many other colleges are studying our college in an effort to find the reason for our success. "Our success can not be found; he can only be met."

Dr. Sparks is a member of several fraternal organizations such as Pi Delta Epsilon, Alpha Delta Sigma, and Phi Sigma Kappa. He is a Mason, a Kiwanian, and a member of the First Baptist Church of Atlanta, where he is chairman of the Board of Directors. He is author of several books: "Camp Cotton and Border," 1917; "War Activities," 1920, and others.

Despite his many wide-spread activities, the Atlanta Division holds the largest spot in his heart, for he can rightfully be called its master builder.

HISTORY

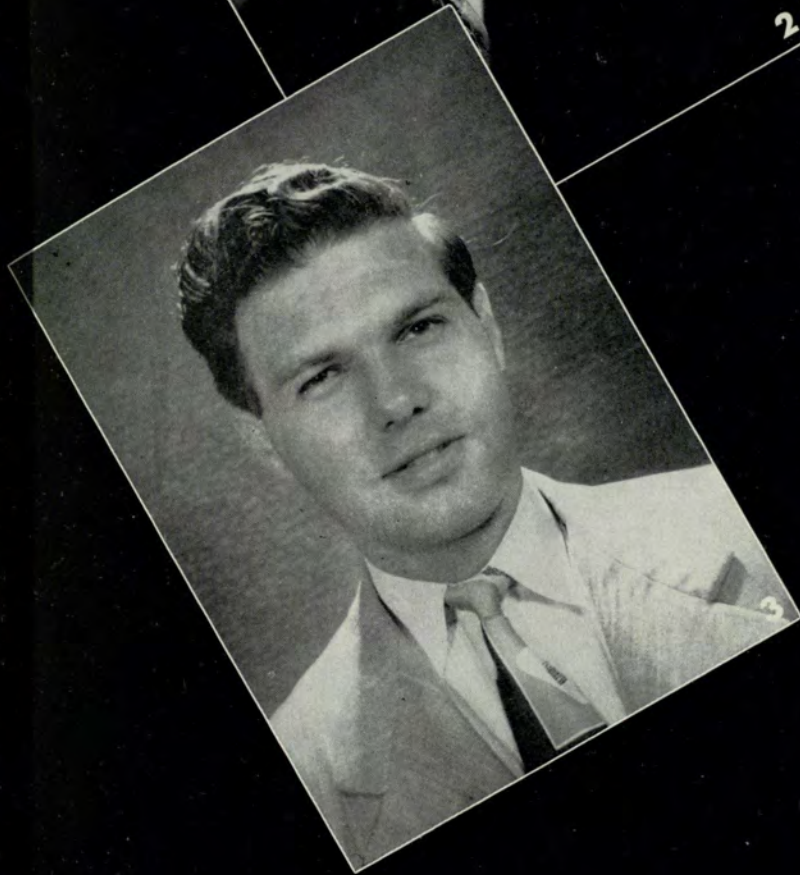

ATLANTA DIVISION UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

The history of the Atlanta Division, University of Georgia, is as impressive as the plans for its new campus. The Atlanta Division began as an idea for promoting education for men and women who were in search of a college education but could not attend day classes. One hundred and sixty students were enrolled, and the faculty was made up of eleven professors. Courses offered were mainly business subjects, with languages and history added later. All of the school facilities were in the building itself.

The aim of the Atlanta Division has been accomplished by offering to thousands of young people the opportunity to gain an education while making their living. Students attending the Atlanta Division now number from 4,000 to 6,000, with a faculty composed of one hundred and fifty professors. The curriculum contains a large variety of courses, with several degrees and diplomas now being offered. The present location of the Atlanta Division at 24 Ivy Street is its third home, with school facilities now including the school lodge and the gymnasium. Students have an opportunity to enter into organizations which promote certain types of activities, both social and professional, and further business education generally.

Plans for the new home of the Atlanta Division will bring to students a magnificent structure, enclosing a new library, additional classrooms, executive offices, and student lounges, with the present building being used for laboratories and additional classroom space. The ingenuity, aggressiveness, and genuine interest of the faculty and students in the Atlanta Division will continue to make it a school of which we can all be proud.

Who's Who

The University sponsored this year a "Who's Who at the Atlanta Division." Students were nominated for their scholastic ability and student activities. From this group of eligible individuals, the faculty selected twenty-one outstanding juniors and seniors to be listed in the "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" for the year 1950-51. This is the first time the Atlanta Division has been given the opportunity of submitting names of its students for listing in the publication. Students pictured were nominated for "Who's Who at the Atlanta Division," and individuals selected for the "Who's Who" publication have been so designated. Sketches of their accomplishments are in this year's edition, and scrolls were presented to these students on Honors Night.

Traditionally the college annual is for the specific benefit of the seniors who graduate during the year, and furnishes them with a reference book of their classmates. The Atlanta Division, like many other colleges now, broadens its annual to include all students who may wish to participate. Accordingly, the 1951 RAMPWAY carries pictures and activities of all classes.

With its inclusive coverage, however, the annual remains essentially for the seniors. In years to come they may refer not only to their own classmates, but also to other students in the school at the time of their graduation.

Congratulations and best wishes are in order for the entire senior class—to all transfer students and others who have completed their full course of work here or will do so before September of 1951. All who will receive a degree from this university realize the work and sacrifice which is necessary.

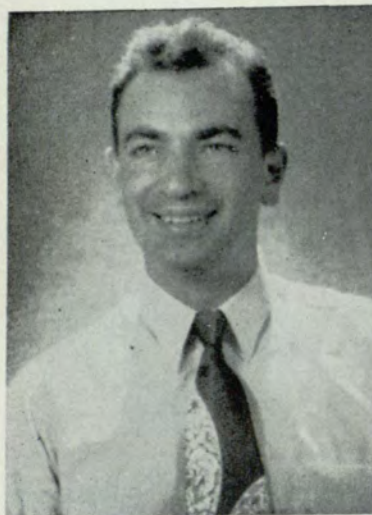

Having these thoughts in mind, the staff of the 1951 RAMPWAY wishes to express their congratulations to the Senior Class of 1951.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

Students pictured on the previous pages are taking various subjects at the Atlanta Division but are not registered as working on a degree. Some of these students are working on a certificate in nursing education and are attending the Atlanta Division because certain courses are offered here. Others are taking specific subjects they are interested in which will not earn for them a degree. Many students pictured on the preceding pages are engaged in post-graduate work.

R O T C

In September, under the command of Lt. Col. Albert T. Stafford of Lawton, Okla., the ROTC-Transportation Unit will be activated. Col. Stafford will be assisted by Major George W. S. Kuhn, Master Sergeant Harry Winburn, Sergeant John Williams, G. T. Loftis and John Jacobs. Since the meeting with high army brass, approximately 200 students have filled out preliminary blanks. Expected enrollment—500.

The unit will boast of a 40-piece band. Drill will be conducted during the morning, and in the summer camps will be held for the advanced students. After completion of four years training, students may be commissioned second lieutenants in the service for which summer encampments are conducted.

ORGANIZATIONS

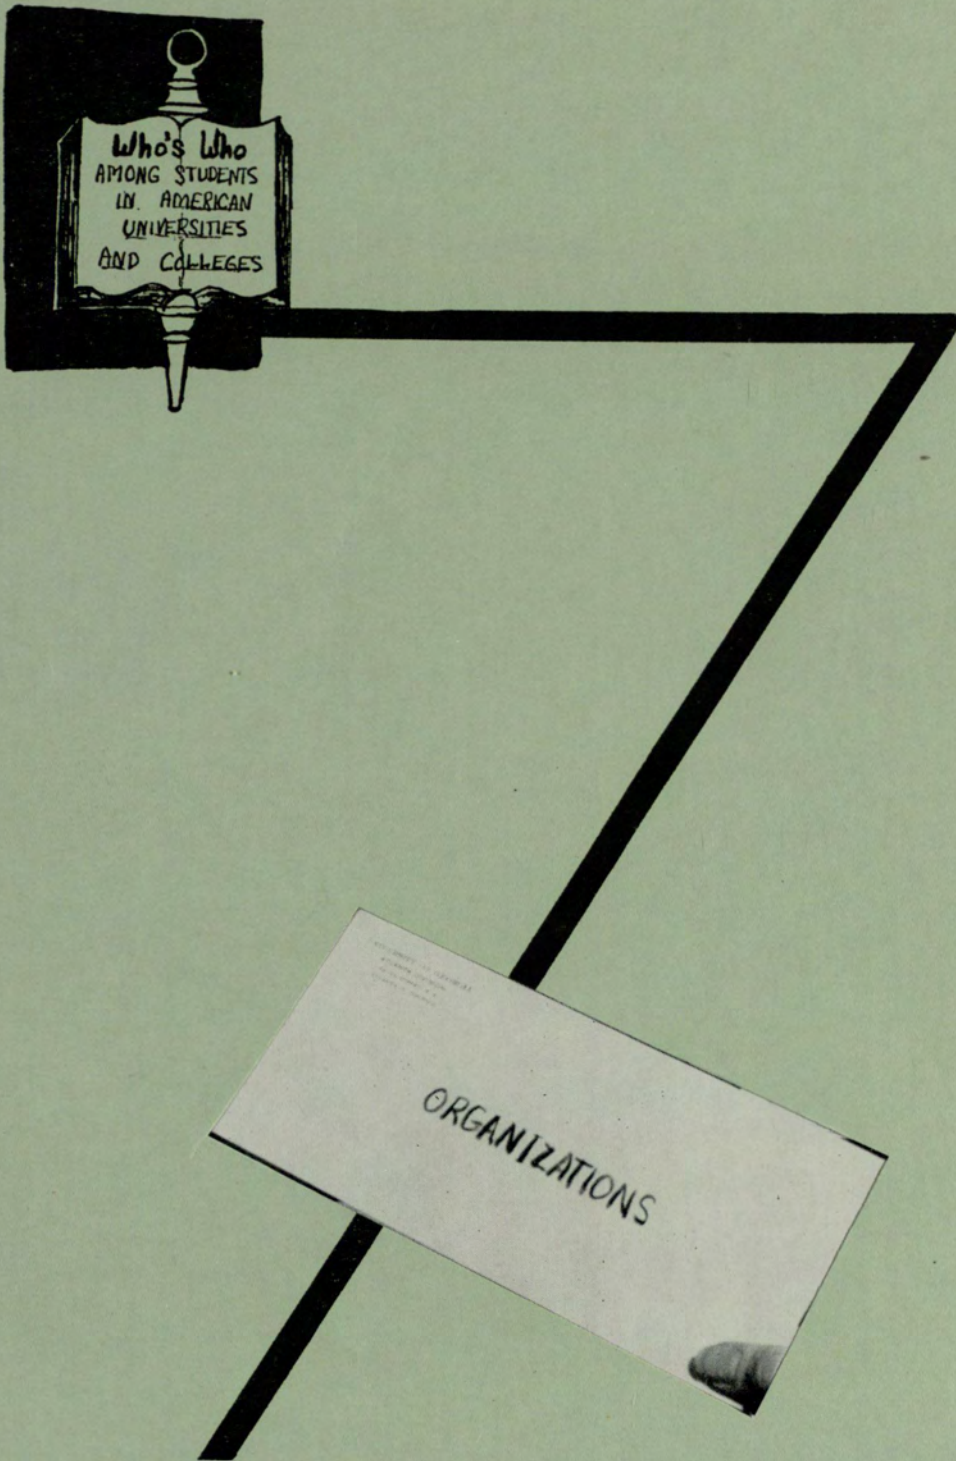

Organizations at the Atlanta Division, University of Georgia, are many and their purposes varied.

There are the honorary organizations, Delta Mu Delta, composed of students who were in the top 15% of the graduating class, Intramural Key and Crimson Key for men and women students, respectively, having two years of college with an average of B. These organizations, by extending membership, bestow honor upon students for their scholastic ability.

Professional organizations are represented by Alpha Kappa Psi and Delta Sigma Pi, men's international professional fraternities in commerce, the Society for the Advancement of Management and the Atlanta Marketing Club for men students, and Phi Chi Theta, national women's commerce fraternity. Professional groups such as the above bring to members information on activities concerned with occupations to which members may devote themselves.

The women's social sororities include Chi Rho Sigma and Delta Alpha Delta, for day students, and Kappa Theta and Delta Lambda Sigma, for evening students. Sigma Kappa Chi-Alpha Chapter, for day students, Delta Kappa, the Venetian Society, and Tau Epsilon Phi, for evening students, comprise the men's social organizations. These social groups meet for the fellowship of other students. In order to finance their activities, money-making projects are presented.

In the category of special interest organizations, there are Gamma Delta Phi, semi-professional music fraternity, the Accounting Association for furthering knowledge of accounting procedures in professional work through practice and forums, the Speakers Club, for men students who are interested in public speaking, and Sigma Tau Iota, national historical society. Organizations of this type sponsor activities in line with their interests for the benefit of the school and their members.

The General Council is composed of representatives from each organization of the college, and is the governing body of organizational activities. It grants dates for functions, regulates pledging and initiating, set minimum qualifications for membership, and performs other regulatory services.

The General Council was organized during the school year 1948-49, and replaced the then existing Interfraternity Councils. It has been enlarged and the 1949-50 school year is its first year of operation.

DELTA MU DELTA

Since the installation of Theta Chapter, June 9, 1931, Delta Mu Delta has lived up to its purpose, which is to promote "higher scholarship in subjects set forth in the curriculum . . . to stimulate interest in the advancement of scholarly ideals; and to recognize and reward scholastic attainment in the studies as set forth above."

Through the Delta Mu Delta Honor Roll, published annually, the records of students of outstanding scholastic rating are acknowledged.

The election of members, selected from the graduating seniors, together with two undergraduates, honors those students who have successfully passed the rigid requirements for this, the only senior college national scholarship fraternity at the Atlanta Division, University of Georgia.

HISTORY

The Kappa Theta Sorority was founded January 24, 1937, by Mrs. Nell H. Trotter who, realizing the need for another social organization for women, banded together a small group of girls and thus formed the Sorority.

The organization is composed of members who realize their responsibility to our school, our community, and the world of today. Kappa Theta seeks to pledge to membership only women of high character, beauty, and outstanding personality.

SPEAKERS CLUB

As an expression of loyalty to, and as an evidence of interest in the Georgia Evening College, we, the members of the Speakers Club have organized for the express purpose of serving the Evening College and better fitting the members of the Speakers Club for successful life work; by promoting interest in public speaking; by affording those already interested in public speaking an opportunity to improve their abilities; by encouraging participation in inter-collegiate debating; and, as a result, furthering the development of a high standard of education.

COMMITTEE

Mardi Gras Chairman Expresses Her Thanks

Eugenia Jackson the Queen and King. You did an

I am glad to have the opportunity to express my thanks to the many people who made this year's Mardi Gras so successful. First, I would like to thank Bill Robinson, who was elected as co-chairman of the committee. He has been a most efficient chairman. I would also like to thank the members of the committee: Treasurer, Secretary, and the members of the committee. It is never easy to be a chairman, but I have enjoyed the work which some of you have done, particularly as started by two of you, Bill Robinson and Helen Colquitt. Because they have taken the "hand" and given me on many problems, I am glad to thank them. I would like to thank Jim Cantrell, Dr. Wrye, and the many others who have helped me during the year. I am grateful to Bill Layton, Professor Taylor, Matthews, Lee Barnett, Al Kuetz, Helen Colquitt, Ramona Clark, Mildred Murray, Joe Davis, Ann Barrett, Jean Owen, and Wrye. A special word of appreciation goes to the SIGNAL staff for their work, though I don't know how to express my appreciation. I would like to thank Montgomery, Don Robinson for granting me the opportunity to present my thanks to the organizations — Student Council, Student Council, and I want to thank you for your support. Mrs. Lois Rank Tugge, public relations, Mr. J. Walter R. Skiff, beauty, and Mr. Kurt are inspecting the school. The Third Army area which has been approved for ROTC.

Expansion Program Sees Purchase of Adjoining Lot

The school has announced the acquisition of the area to the rear of its present location running under the Courtland street viaduct back to Piedmont Avenue. The announced price was $27,000. The main reason for acquiring this space according to the director's office was to obtain a place to carry on ROTC drill activities. Dr. Sparks also added that would aid student parking much greatly and give the much needed outlet.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

ANTHA MULKEY
President

The Atlanta Division Alumni Association was activated in the fall of 1949, when Dr. Sparks appointed Al Kuettner as its official secretary. After considerable research, and much ground work, alumni were notified by mail in the winter quarter of 1950, of the association's first meeting. In April, 1950, after several committee meetings, the association met officially and elected officers, a board of directors, and ratified a constitution.

The association has progressed considerably since its first meeting. It has published three issues of the Alumni Magazine. At the close of the senior year 1951, the group entertained all June and August seniors at a reception and musical in the Concert Hall.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union serves as a connecting link between the college campus and the Baptist Churches in the college community. Any student who becomes a member of the church in the college community, or of any unit organization within that church may consider himself a member of the Baptist Student Union.

The Baptist Student Union endeavors to serve its purpose by furnishing students information concerning local church activities, and sponsoring socials, devotionals, deputations, missions, and youth revivals.

The Baptist Student Union works very closely with Baptist Student Unions on other college campuses.
