"All right! — Everybody listen! I don't want to be here all night with this cut session. I talked to Rhonda Rushee, and she's definitely coming to our preferential. We've just got to get her — she was Miss Everything in high school, and she's got brains. But remember, I don't want everybody just to hang on to Rhonda; it looks bad to all the other rushees — and when you talk to these girls look them straight in the eye. We've got to make every girl coming through our door want US! And everybody had better be here to get ready for the theme party! And remember, keep smiling!"

Panthers Edge Out LSU, 105-103;

The Georgia State University Panthers extended their winning streak to five games Friday and got a small bit of revenge in the process. The game, was against Louisiana State University at New Orleans, a team that defeated the Panthers 123 - 82 earlier in the season.

The GSU team was ready and waiting for the Privateers, and immediately went to work when the bell rang. A pressing defense led by Buddy Persons, Jackie Poag and Dwight Hamner forced the LSUNO into countless turnovers.

John Hamilton, a 6 foot 1 1/2 inch guard for the Privateers, did his best to keep the New Orleans school in the contest by hitting shots from practically everywhere. Hot streaks by Hamner, Persons and Benson, however, ran up the GSU score and by halftime the Cats led 61 - 52.

The second half was almost disastrous for the GSU team.

Playing with an eight-man roster (most schools have twelve), the Panthers had to go with their starters for nearly the whole contest.

LSUNO, however, has great bench strength and was able to substitute freely. The rested Privateer squad was able to catch up to the Panthers and suddenly the score read 75 - 75. The lead changed frequently from then on, and at the end of regulation play the score tied, 97 - 97.

Play in the overtime period was much the same as in the regular second half, but with 18 seconds left, Dwight Hamner hit two free throws to make the score 105 - 103.

The Privateers brought the ball down court, Hamilton shot and missed. A tip was missed. And another one. Benson pulled in the rebound for the Panthers, when the whistle blew.

With 3 seconds left, a jump ball was called. Benson tipped the toss to Persons, just as the clock ran out. Revenge was sweet for the Panthers.

Buddy Persons led the GSU scoring with 34 points, scored mostly in the second half. This effort may have saved the game for the Panthers.

Poag scored 27 points in the contest, followed by Hamner with 20. Phil Washington contributed to the effort by pulling down 15 rebounds against a much taller Privateer squad.

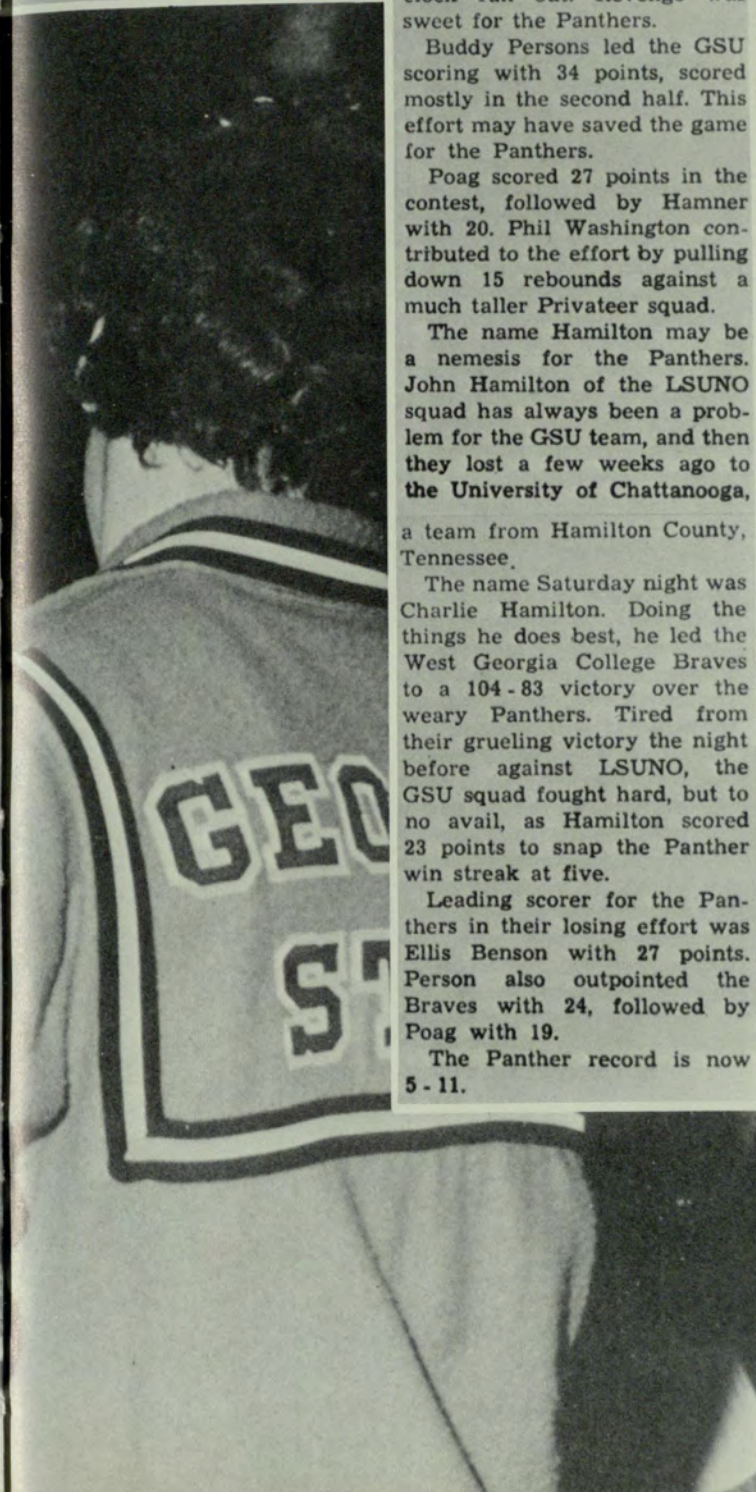

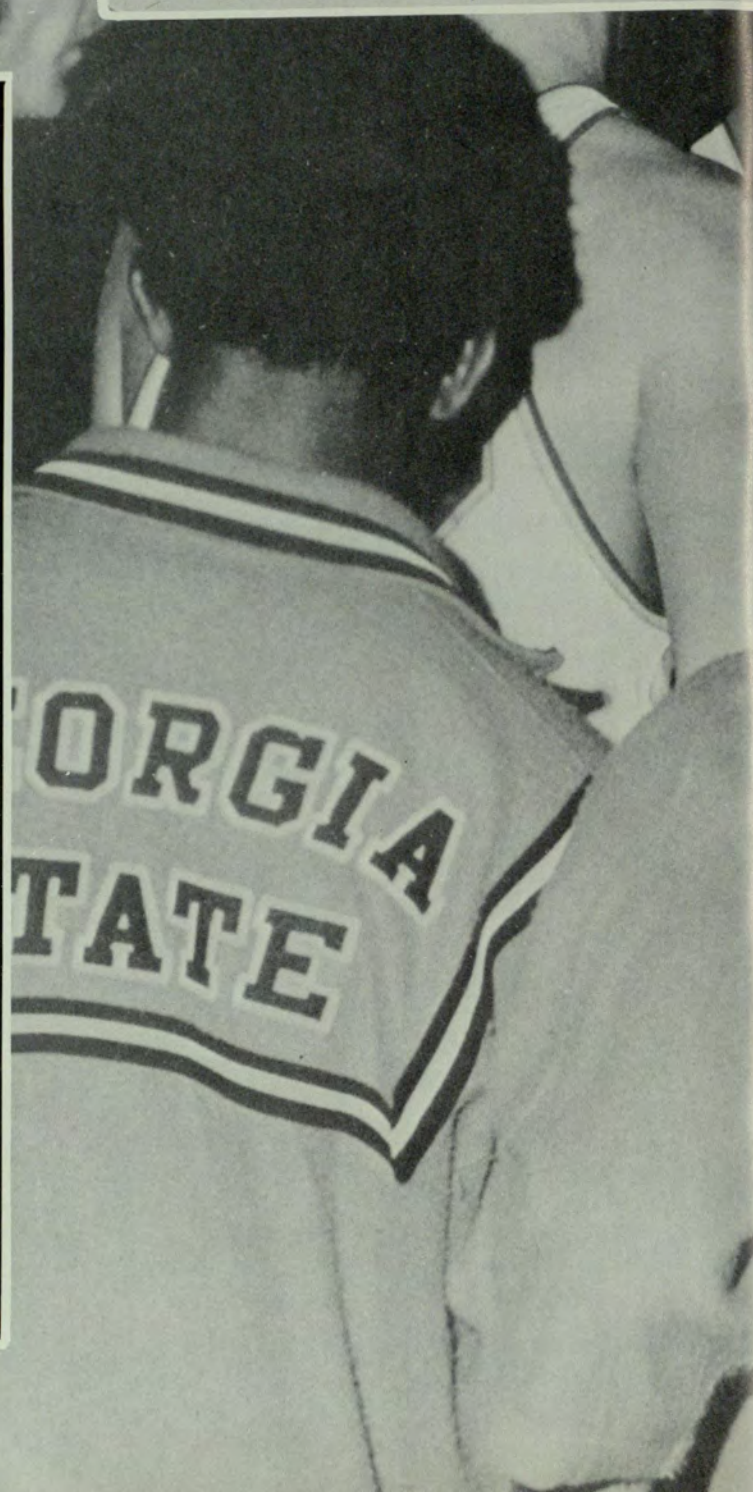

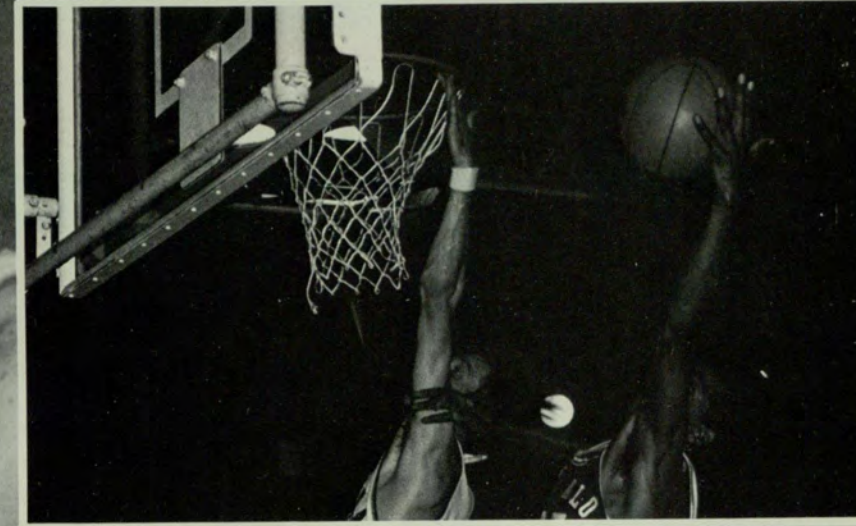

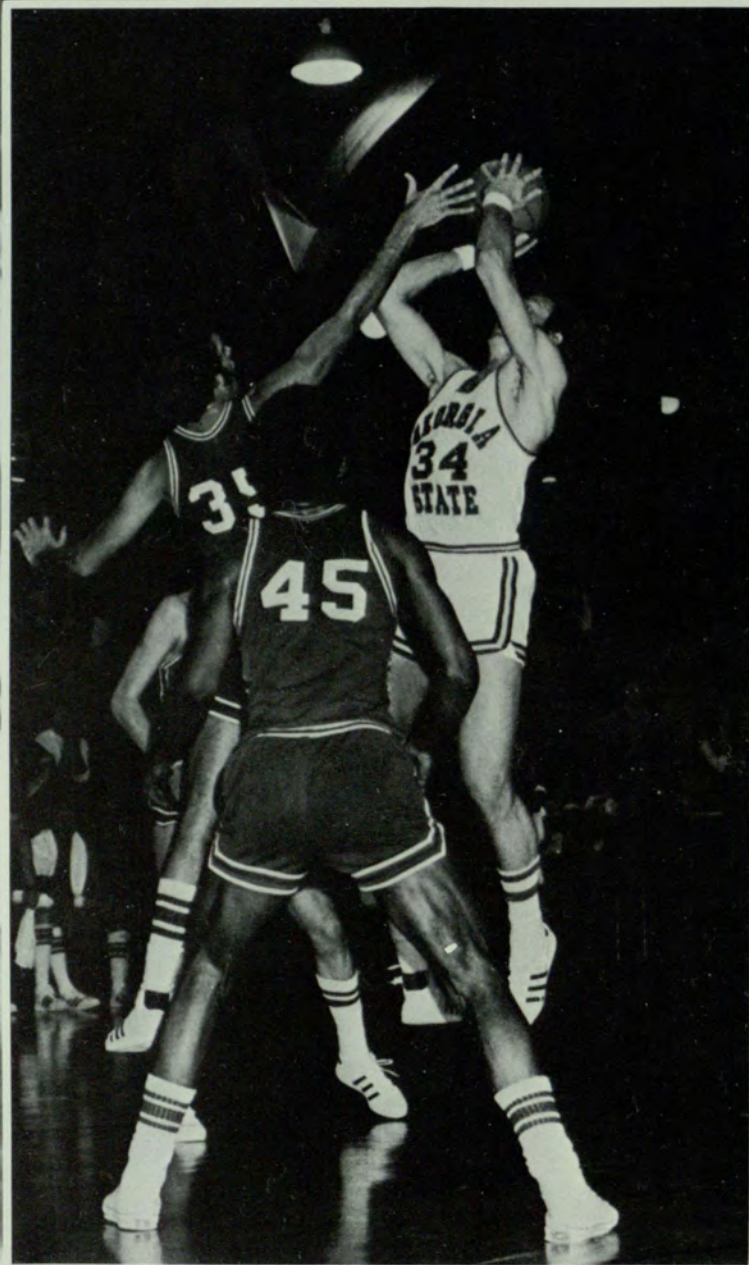

The name Hamilton may be a nemesis for the Panthers. John Hamilton of the LSUNO squad has always been a problem for the GSU team, and then they lost a few weeks ago to the University of Chattanooga, a team from Hamilton County, Tennessee.

The name Saturday night was Charlie Hamilton. Doing the things he does best, he led the West Georgia College Braves to a 104 - 83 victory over the weary Panthers. Tired from their grueling victory the night before against LSUNO, the GSU squad fought hard, but to no avail, as Hamilton scored 23 points to snap the Panther win streak at five.

Leading scorer for the Panthers in their losing effort was Ellis Benson with 27 points. Person also outpointed the Braves with 24, followed by Poag with 19.

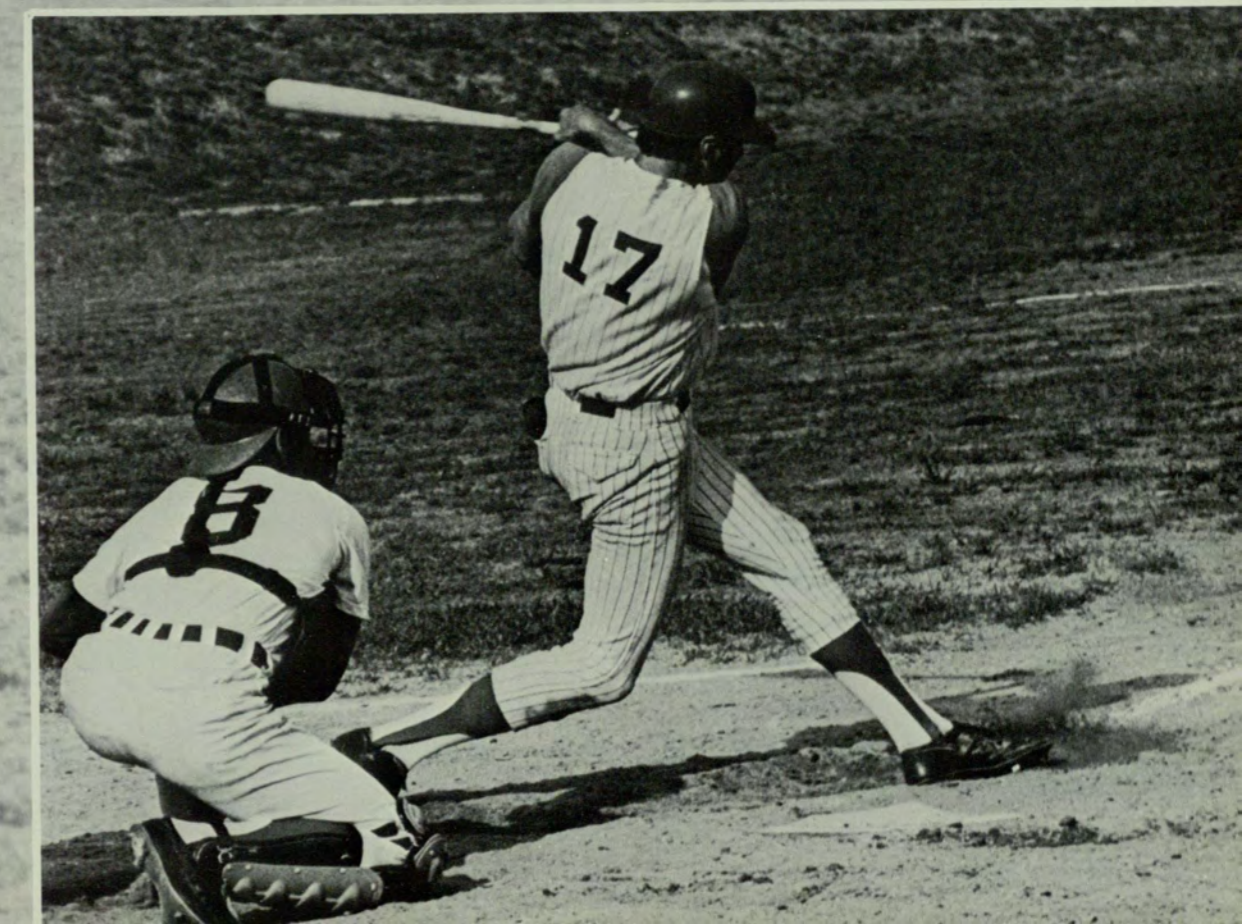

The Panther record is now 5 - 11.

During times such as these when anything of value must be classified as "relevant", it is difficult to categorize and evaluate a work which has no immediate cause or idealistic goal. Critics have said that the RAMPWAY at Georgia State University is now obsolete, fulfilling no specific purpose and providing no tangible benefit to the student body. Yet it is my belief that we have accomplished something this year that will grow in meaning as the years pass. In this edition, we have attempted to record the spirit and diversity of Georgia State University capturing in these pages moments that will now live forever. An insignificant achievement? Perhaps — but must everything be serious? Can't we just enjoy . . . ?

Enough defense. I would like to extend special thanks to Dr. Kenneth England, Dean of Students; Ed Jones, our representative; Mr. James E. Sligh, our advisor; my staff: Patti Fenzel, Alan Barge, Susan Saggus, Andrea Adams, Linda Galloway, Russ Childers, Jan Metcalf, Mark Hassett, Tom Raynor, and Boyce Graham; Mrs. Helen Wachter and Mr. Steve Maxwell at the plant in Topeka. I would also like to thank Dr. King Buttermore, Assistant Dean of Students, for his much needed moral support during times of much tribulation.
