Tax Assessors and Receivers,
City of Atlanta,
Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen:

Your letter of September 16, concerning my ownership of a 1942 Ford is in error in this way:

I do not live in the city, but do live at 50 Sheridan Dr., and my address was shown as 162 Luckie St., N. W. for the car because one of our employees in getting several tags could not think of my residence address (50 Sheridan Drive), so he put it at 162 Luckie St., where he was given the blanks to fill out. My business address was 162 Luckie St., N. W., but has been discontinued.

The Ford car in question was one of four turned over to us by Fort MacPherson in order to facilitate securing surplus property of more than $300,000.00 from North Carolina to Dallas, Texas, thus saving the State the expenditure of this amount in order to provide for some 2800 G.I.'s.

This particular car is not in my possession now, but has been turned over to someone whose address is now Macon, Ga.

The car, while in my possession, was used primarily for State and Army purposes, and the state law requires that we must have a license tag which we secured at that time.

Cordially yours,

George M. Sparks,
Director.
