Vol. VI. No. 3

ATLANTA DIVISION, UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

Wednesday, October 29, 1947

CURTAIN TIME—Members of the cast for the first production by the university players of "13th Chair" are shown at their first rehearsal on the stage of the partly completed auditorium, Oct. 22. The mystery is to be followed by "What a Life", which will be produced in January of next year, and "Joan of Lorraine" follows in March. Pictured above are the cast members who were present at the first rehearsal. Left to right, they are: Catherine Lesens, Jack Bröck, Path Hutchinson, John Bowline, Val Moore, Bill Martin, Ralph Boyer, Elsa Binford, Frederick Langridge, Ruth Dray, Peggy Thomas, Ruth Fiske, Betty Ann Craven, and Harold Douglas, director. The pair of protruding feet in the lower left hand corner belong to Mr. John Phelps, whose face the SIGNAL photographer could not seem to get into the picture. A great deal of electrical and lighting equipment recently added will be of great value to the players when they begin presenting their productions at the Theatre.—Photo by Gunter and Humphreys.

'Thirteenth Chair,' Mystery To Open Season Dec. 4-5

'What a Life,' 'Joan Of Lorraine,' To Follow

"The Thirteenth Chair," a mystery classic, will open the university players' season December 4-5 in the new gymnasium, it was announced last week by dramatics instructor Harold Douglas, Theatre Director.

Cast of the old-timer, which has not been produced in recent years, includes; Ruth Dray, Betty Craven, Beth Hutchinson, Ruth Fiske, Mary Nell Ivy, Elsa Binford, Clare Sears, Jack Brock, Gene Asher, William Martin, John Bowling, Zenas Sears, John Phelps, Richard Formal, Val Moore, Ralph Bryer, and J. P. Langridge.

The story centers around the efforts of a professional mentalist to discover the identity and motives of the person who causes consternation (among other things) in the home of a socially prominent family.

Admission will be one dollar for adults and fifty cents for students.

"The Thirteenth Chair" will be followed by "What a Life" on January 22-23 and "Joan of Lorraine" on March 4-5-6. The latter play will coincide with conventions of the Georgia Education Association and of the Association of Georgia Speech Teachers, it was stressed by Mr. Douglas.

The elaborate set required for "The Thirteenth Chair" will be designed by Mr. Douglas and built by members of the cast and others interested in participating. Mr. Douglas requests interested students to see him any Monday, Wednesday or Friday between 5 and 9 p.m.

New Stage to Be Well Equipped

"The stage of the new auditorium will be one of the most modern and well-equipped in Atlanta," states Harold Douglas, Theatre Director.

The latest innovations in stage lighting, scenic equipment, and signal devices will be available, he has revealed. Within the past week has been installed $2,000 worth of fly lines, said by Douglas to be capable of handling any show. Curtains and automatic tracks worth $10,000 and electrical equipment valued at $20,000 have also been put in.

The auditorium will seat about 3,000 people, and "all seats will be good seats," affirms Mr. Douglas. "With the introduction of collapsible balcony bleachers and the most modern sound equipment, the actors can easily be seen and heard from every point in the house."

RAMPWAYS

If you can write poetry as good as this, then, and only then!—are you eligible to give news tips to the SIGNAL. Students may drop their gossip in the Signal box at the head of the ramp.

Office Floors Vacated For Classrooms

The American Railway Express Agency will vacate its offices on the second and third floors of the school building on December 1, releasing to the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia enough space for twelve additional classrooms, it was announced by Director George M. Sparks last week.

This space includes 7,500 square feet on the second floor and a like amount on the third floor, making a total of 15,000 square feet, all of which is on the front of the building facing Ivy street. All of the new rooms will have outside windows, and will be approximately the same size of the larger class rooms the school is using now. Conversion of the space into class rooms will begin immediately after it is vacated.

Dr. Sparks did not say when he expects the new rooms to be ready for use, but he indicated that conversion will be accomplished as quickly as possible. He did state, however, that more courses will be added to the schedule as soon as the new class rooms are available.

In order that the school may proceed with its expansion program, the Agency agreed to relinquish the property on December 1, although its lease does not expire until February.

with the University's new record. At present there are 557 veterans in the day school. There are also eight women veterans in the Day Division. There are 1,259 men veterans in the Evening Division and also 30 women veterans.

The number of men and women enrolled in the Day and Night Divisions offers a slight contrast. In the Day Division, male students number 1,179, while the females total only 565.

Fall Enrollment Sets Record Here

Topping the previous peak enrollment by 219 students, enrollment at the new Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia reached the highest in history at the beginning of the fall quarter with the combined enrollment of the Day and Evening Divisions reaching a new high of 4,819 men and women.

School Registrar Earnest H. Emory had recently estimated that the enrollment might soar to approximately 5,000, his estimate being only 181 students away from the final total.

Last year's combined enrollment of 4,600 had previously set a new record, but this year's total tops it by 219 students. The '47 summer enrollment also set a record with a total of 1,920 students. This topped the 899 students on the roll during the 1946 summer session.

The end of the war and the release of thousands of service men and women had a great deal to do

Class Elections Held In Evening Division Frosh Elections Postponed; To Be Held Later In New Gym

Elections of officers were held in all classes but the Freshman class of the Evening Division after school Monday, October 20, with organization members dominating the small turnout. As a natural result nearly all of the 1st officers elected were

Each class elected a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary and a Treasurer, the positions being honorary. The four presidents become members of the student council, and the two who are presently classroom representatives must resign from one position, their places being filled by election.

The attendance was extremely slight at all of the class meetings, numbering from about 40 in the Sophomore class to 14 in the Junior class. In a school whose enrollment approaches the 5,000 mark, this was hardly considered representative by several who expressed an opinion. Although the elections were held at 9:00, certain student leaders expressed the conviction that the student body failed to support the activity.

Ben Binford was elected President of the Senior class, with Jan Keller being selected as Vice President, Elsa Binford as Secretary, and Gabe Thomas as Treasurer. Mark Morris conducted the election.

In the Junior class Tracey O'Neal was elected President, Margaret Slocum, Vice President; Evelyn Hyde, Secretary; and Bill Young, Treasurer. The proceedings were conducted by Bill Young.

Pre-Junior officers elected were: Phillip Maffett, President; Kathryn Miller, Vice President; Carolyn Hayes, Secretary; and Grey Reeves, Treasurer. Gene Kyser was chair-

Dr. George M. Sparks, Director of the Atlanta Division, University of Georgia, has announced the following students who placed in the top five per cent bracket of the recent Hinman-Nelson Test administered to 280 freshmen.

E. D. Student Council Holds First Meeting

Discussions on Homecoming Plans, Frosh Officers Held

The following is a resume of the official minutes of the first student council meeting of the year in the Evening Division:

The first meeting of the student council for the fall quarter was held on October 17, 1947, in the lower library with Marcus Morris, President of the student body, presiding. A motion was made and carried that the minutes of the last meeting be dispensed with until a later meeting.

It was brought to the attention of the representatives that each six o'clock class is allowed one night per quarter for a lodge party. The only charge for the use of the lodge is one dollar, which is used to pay for the cleaning of the lodge after the party. It was further suggested that this is a very good way in which to become acquainted with your fellow students.

The election of the class officers was discussed in detail. There was a feeling that if the elections were held after school at nine o'clock on Monday night that the attendance would be very small. No space other than the auditorium is large enough to hold the freshmen, necessitating a delay in the elections or a double interruption of classes. Inasmuch as a delay in the election of the other class officers would delay work on the Homecoming Banquet, it was felt best that elections be held at the designated time.

The discussion of the Homecoming Banquet was turned over to Bill Marr, Chairman, by Mark Morris. The date set for the banquet is Wednesday, November 26, 1947, at the new auditorium of the school. Classes will be dismissed for that

PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR HOMECOMING BANQUET

Orchestra, Menu Selected

By BETTY HILL

Further developments in the plans for the Evening Division Thanksgiving Homecoming Banquet, as announced by Chairman Bill Marr, include the definite selection of the caterer for the meal, the orchestra for the dance, and the price to the students. Tentative arrangements have been made for the principal speaker, the program and the beginning date of the ticket sale.

An agreement has been reached with Dumas' College Cafeteria to furnish the meal for the banquet at a price so far below others that the Cafeteria will operate at a deficit for the evening. This loss is to be charged to advertising. The meal will be a regular banquet one: turkey, dressing, two vegetables, salad, pie, appetizer and drinks.

Lewis Ridley's orchestra has been tentatively selected to play for the dance. Ridley is considered one of the best, and was the best available for the night. He features Jimmy Killpatrick, also a motion picture star.

The price for the affair has been set at $1.50 per person, as compared to $2.50 per person last year. The advertising feature of the College Cafeteria, and the new auditorium contribute materially to this slash in prices, but not a slash in service, says Bill Marr, who anticipates a banner attendance.

Speakers Club Plans Debates

By MARJORIE DEMPSEY

Debating activities in the Evening Division have not yet fully crystallized, but tentative plans are being worked out and will be released in the near future, according to Jack Beckham, debate chairman of the Speakers Club. The Speakers Club handles debating activities in the Evening Division.

A match with the Day Division is expected, at the instigation of the Day Division debating club. The subject, type of debate, time and other arrangements have not yet been completed, however.

Georgia Tech, Mercer, University of Georgia, Agnes-Scott, Emory and Howard College in Birmingham are other potential foes for the Speakers Club, and negotiations are presently under way with these and several other institutions. An effort is being made to include as many home engagements as possible in order to avoid the necessity of participants requiring time off from their jobs.

Any student, male or female, who desires to participate in this program, either as an active debater, adviser, or research worker has been requested by Jack Beckham to contact him at CYpress 6582, HENlock 5975-M, or to drop his name in the Signal box, Room 102A.

Sigma Pi Alpha Lists Qualifications, Honor Roll

Due to a great deal of misunderstanding as to the qualifications for membership in Sigma Pi Alpha, honor society for the Day Division, Miss Picket Hynes, advisor, has released the following qualifications:

1. The student must have completed at least nine courses. At least two-thirds of this work in the Day Division.

2. The student must have carried a full load each quarter (at least three courses).

Evening Division Class Elections

The class elections held at 9:00 on Monday, October 20, were a disgrace, and brought no credit to the school. This despite honest efforts to the contrary by Mark Morris, President of the student body.

The chief ills could be laid to lack of attendance; the Junior class, for example, named four officers from among the 14 students who attended. The number of nominations for President were 3, and including the chairman constituted 4 ineligible to vote. Since only 10 students were thus able to vote, it was possible for the President of the Junior class to be elected by a TOTAL (not margin) of only four (4) votes!! Something is wrong in a situation of this kind.

Such was not the case; Tracey O'Neal received more than 4 votes, but the essential point is that it was possible for election to come as a result of such a ridiculously small number.

Mark Morris made every effort to prevent any one group from controlling the elections—he named two chairmen from two opposing fraternities, one who was not an organization member, and took the fourth himself. The necessity of conducting the meetings after school was definitely not his fault. He has cooperated to the fullest extent in giving the maximum of publicity in advance, unlike the practice followed last year by the student administration. He regretted the small attendance.

No one in full possession of the facts in this case could possibly blame Mark Morris for anything that happened; his slate is clear.

What was wrong? Again the lack of interest by the student body in general was behind the failure. Only organization members were present (credit should go to them for that), consequently, organization members were almost certain to be elected. There can be no blame attached to the organizations for that.

There was one bright spot; at least three of the elections were conducted in an orderly manner. However, one of the class elections, after an orderly start, degenerated into little short of a carnival. The meeting got out of hand during the discussion of qualifications of presidential nominees, and the newly-elected President was either incapable of restoring order or had no particular desire along that line. It was not a case of lack of ability. There was more order at some of the side shows at the recent Fair than at this particular meeting.

Why does the Evening Division seem to lack the spirit it had before the war? There has never been a rah-rah college spirit here (fortunately), but there was a definite mature school pride and school spirit. It is a vast understatement to say that this attitude does not seem to predominate today.

Why?

A Remarkable Accomplishment

Payment recently by the Atlanta Division, University of Georgia, of a twelve-year note, in the amount of $292,000, in only ten months was a remarkable accomplishment, representing business management equaled in only a few commercial concerns today. This achievement called for skillful planning, foresight, extraordinary administrative ability, and propitious circumstances, an element often overlooked.

That the Division has full title to its building with no financial obligations attached is the most significant result of this transaction. It is not, however, the only important result. Another expressive element, which people generally overlook, is involved—the saving to the school in interest over the years during which the note was to be paid.

Dr. Sparks said last week the interest on the note was to have been $12,000 per year, constituting a monthly interest expense of $1,000, and a total of $144,000 over the twelve-year life of the note. By paying the indebtedness in ten months, all of this amount, except $10,000 representing the interest for the ten months the note was outstanding, was saved. That is, retirement of this debt at such an early date reduced the school's yearly expenses by $12,000, producing a net saving of $134,000 over a period of twelve years, a sum which can advantageously be applied to some other school need.

A Gratifying Response

Response to the SIGNAL'S request for additional staff members has been extremely gratifying. Many Day Division students, several of them with high school newspaper experience, have offered their services to the SIGNAL; numerous Evening Division students have also offered to help; and the SIGNAL has received the names of a few students who want to work on the RAMPWAY staff. In addition, the SIGNAL has received several contributions from any-

Signals From the Library

By W. WILSON NOYES, JR.

Today, more than ever, the business man finds that he must be fully prepared if he is to make a success in the business world. In this column I would like to mention some business aids—books and periodicals—that will be useful to him.

A most useful one volume reference book is the Business Executive's Handbook, edited by S. M. Brown. The purpose of this book is to provide reliable information in the most concise form on a variety of topics such as business letters, selling by mail, office management and credits and collection. Another useful book for the student interested in the best method of business correspondence is W. H. Butterfield's The Business Letter in Modern Form. It gives all of the details of a good business letter plus an excellent appendix which gives information such as abbreviations of the names of states, words most often misspelled, common errors in English usage and postal information.

Two recent books that may be of interest to the person desiring to secure a good job with advancement possibilities are Alvin H. Kaplan's The Job That Fits You—and How to Get It and Richard P. Calhoun's Moving Ahead on Your Job.

Another useful new book of interest to the student of business methods is Personnel Management and Industrial Relations by Dale Yoder. It gives excellent material on personnel management, selection of new employees, relationships with your employees, wage policies and promotion and transfer policies.

Business periodicals of interest are Business Week—a weekly news magazine of business trends in the United States—and Journal of Business—a quarterly on business topics published by the University of Chicago. Personnel and Monthly Labor Review are two periodicals of interest to the person interested in personnel matters. Two useful periodicals in the field of marketing are the Journal of Marketing and Industrial Marketing.

Fortune from time to time has useful articles on various phases of business. These articles may be located by looking under the desired subject in the Readers Guide to Periodical Literature.

These periodicals are only a few in the field of business that the library subscribes to. Come in and take a look at our collection.

mous supporters, to which supporters the Editors express sincere appreciation.

Such participation is exactly what it will take to make our school newspaper representative of all of the students. A large staff of writers will give more complete coverage of all school events while reducing the amount of work any individual is required to do. Contributions by individual students provide news items which otherwise would not be published, for it is virtually impossible for any editor or any staff to know everything that goes on around a school as large as ours. Individual student participation is the only method that will provide complete coverage of student affairs.

Student participation may be in the form of facts, jotted down on a piece of paper and dropped in the SIGNAL box; or it may be accomplished simply by providing the editors or staff members with "news tips" on anticipated activities sufficiently in advance to allow arrangements to be made to get the "story."

Meet Your Faculty

In order to promote closer association between students and faculty members, and to familiarize students with their instructors, the SIGNAL is beginning in this issue a series of informational paragraphs concerning the faculty members.

It is suggested that students keep this information to be used in connection with determining which instructor will best meet the particular need for any specific subject at any time in the future. Information will be printed by departments.

Beginning with the Administrative Staff and the Language department, all departments of the school will be covered in subsequent SIGNAL issues.

Our Guest Says . . . . .

By AL KUETTNER

In the closing weeks of the last war, folks started referring to "the post-war world" until the very idea became synonymous with a complete and sudden change in the way of living the moment the final gun sounded.

Of course, the change didn't come quite so fast.

The same thing, on a smaller scale and about a different matter, is happening here at the university.

When the new gymnasium is ready for use, we hear, school spirit will take care of itself. We'll have no more trouble getting every student interested in class meetings.

Pep and vinegar will overflow all over the place, run out into the street and halt traffic.

We can but hope that this situation will take place much sooner than did the arrival of "the post-war world."

The school DOES need a revival of that elusive but important thing known as "spirit." It seems to have gone down in inverse proportion to the growth of the institution in other directions.

A lot of students may ridicule any consideration of this part of school life. They are the ones who want to be left alone with their lessons and not delayed in getting out of the building as soon as the bell rings. They are also the ones who will be with us a quarter or so. No longer. We're glad to have them. It was partly to fill their needs that this institution was built. But it was the other kind who put this school where it is today, the third largest unit of the University System of Georgia.

The organizations, the activities and the "lobby" friendships did the trick as much or more, if you please, than any great thirst for knowledge. Will anyone who knows be so naive as to contest that observation? Word of mouth advertising on the part of students sold others into enrolling. Each quarter the newcomers in turn sold their friends until the name of the Evening College mushroomed over the city.

With our material and enrollment growth, it was only natural that the cultural side of the school should grow, too. That it did, and today we are an integral part of the University of Georgia. That gives us many more scholastic opportunities than ever before. Now, it is up to those of us who love this school to keep the old spirit of its students burning. Biology and economics and accounting are fine things and presumably the ultimate goal of this student body. But those who seek to absorb it without the leavening of associations and extracurricular activities are the same ones who say after a quarter or so, "the grind is too tough. I can't work all day and go to school at night."

The lack of school spirit was never so well demonstrated as in the recent class elections. Less than 20 persons in one class elected a president. Less than did the same in another class. And we have nearly 4,000 students enrolled.

Student Council and its officers will be derelict in their duty if they do not consider this problem seriously and attempt some remedy. Perhaps they have some plans ready, and we hope so.

The new gymnasium-auditorium may be an answer. It is large enough for student assemblies, for example, and we should by all means inaugurate a custom of at least one of these per quarter.

Is a member of many state and national honor societies connected with his field—biology. Hobbies are biology and the human race.

Dear Editor . . . . .

The voice of the student body is an important and influential function of this institution. It adds new courses, changes schedules, causes improvements and alters customs. Letters should be placed in the SIGNAL box.

Why no football in our school? Now that we are a part of the University of Georgia, with an enrollment of something like six thousand, why can't the school have a football team? As a student of the Division I feel certain there would be a great spiritual backing. There are many young, able-bodied men anxious to participate if and when the school gives the "go ahead" sign.

What are the reasons for not establishing this sport in our school? Isn't there a member among the faculty who can qualify as a coach, or is it because there is a lack of sufficient funds?

At present I know of two Junior Colleges who would like to challenge the University of Georgia, Atlanta Division, in football. Here would be a golden opportunity to put our school on the map.

I feel I am speaking for the student body when I ask, "Why no football in our school?"

DEAR EDITOR . . . . .

I have an idea which, in your opinion deserves attention, I would like to see put in effect as soon as possible.

The traffic in the halls before class, during class changes and after class is a confusion of people trying to go in different directions at one time.

Let us start educating the students in traffic courtesy! Put on a program through the SIGNAL asking the cooperation of all concerned in following a single lane of traffic. "Keep to the Right." Have a dividing line painted on the floor or better yet have ropes suspended about waist high fastened to walls and stanchions to hold them up. In front of class rooms have open spaces so that a person may walk through to his class with a minimum of pushing, crowding, and interfering with traffic flowing in the opposite direction.

It will also be of great value in case of fire. Of course we know that the building is what is known as fire resistant or fire-proof as it is sometimes called, but with the tremendous number of people in it, it would only take a small fire in a wastepaper basket to create a panic. Personally I worry more about a panic caused by mass hysteria than I would about a fire.

In my opinion, we should have the lanes described above installed and then notify all students to be on the alert for a fire drill. I am sure the Atlanta police will be glad to aid us by directing automobile traffic on Ivy Street during the time of the drill.

I believe that divided lanes, right side up for traffic and left side for down traffic will lessen confusion, noise, etc., and speed up the time required to go to and from classes and in evacuation of the building in the event there is a fire.

What Day Division miss found out the hard way, what the boys in the office mean by "vault duty?"

Ed Todd can compare girls, one to a thousand. Tell us more, Ed.

Where's Jerry Bowen? We never see him any more. Don't you like the Evening Division, Jerry? Or is there no incentive now to bring you down?

One professor allowed a student to retire to the hall Friday night to study, because the student had a misunderstanding about the test they were about to have. He thought, silly boy, it was going to be Friday night.

Tell us why you kept holding on to that helium-filled balloon, Clack.

At least Elizabeth Jones found a shoulder to cry on, 'bout two weeks ago.

Bobbie Darby gets better-looking every day. Doesn't she, Sam D.

All these sore backs in the Evening Division, practicing for the football tilt. Proves you're getting old, boys.

Has anybody excepting the brunettes noticed all the blondes enrolled this quarter?

What's Don Floyd's interest in the Monday, Wednesday, Friday gym classes?

Where was that Dean George Manners was telling some students he did most of his studying when he went to college?

We keep asking ourselves why Linda Roberts is suddenly so interested in bridge.

Lurline & Courtney Jamison certainly have a right to be proud of that new apartment.

Ah! Ah! Professor Dunlap—we heard that naughty word you said in Econ. 5 class.

George Nash is back. Sharp as ever.

Movies and Stars

By JIMMY TROY

There has been much discussion recently about the new drive-in theatre which has opened in this fair city. I felt that I would take it upon myself to familiarize persons interested in such establishments in order that they should be prepared to meet any situation which may, and probably will, present itself.

For the benefit of newcomers and persons who are not familiar with the history of this metropolis, I would like to say that this is not the first cinema of this type to be offered to the moviegoers of Atlanta. Such establishments were popular before the war, fading out of existence, however, when gasoline ration began.

To continue, smoocher's heaven is located on Piedmont avenue. It offers first run pictures for the benefit of persons who do not really care about seeing a picture, but in reality, are looking for a place to park without being interrupted by the roving police.

This is all very well and good, for unless you are fortunate enough to park directly in front of the screen, you will not be able to see the picture; I would suggest that you go late and be sure of not getting the choice positions. Even with the view of the screen obstructed by the post in the car, there is always the agony of the loud speaker which is forever blaring in your ear. You may, of course, turn the speaker off. This overt act, however, may somewhat illuminate your motive, which in turn will ruin the evening.

In order to overcome such obstacles, I would suggest that you choose the picture in which the characters are very quiet and reserved, rather than a performance in which everyone save the cameraman is killed.

The drive-in theatre has its virtues, however. If the person next to you is eating popcorn, you may raise the window, stick your tongue out at him, and suffocate. If you do not adhere to this suggestion, you also have the alternative of moving the car to a different location, and listening to a baby cry.

In my short acquaintance with drive-ins, I have found it best to drive to the extreme left of the lot. This strategic move eliminates two major obstacles, the first being that your date will not be able to sit comfortably and view the picture from the right side of the car. Therefore, she moves. This eliminates the first and most important objective. Secondly, the noise which will be produced by peanut eaters, popcorn crunchers, and crying babies will not be present, since every one else in that section has the same intentions as you. There, the second obstacle has been subdued.

I hope that my experiences will prove profitable to you; it is also my sincerest wish that, regardless of the screams and moans and the rattle of bones, you will enjoy this postwar addition to entertainment.

One last warning before I go! If the feature showing should be a very romantic demonstration, be extremely careful when driving out. I still remember my last experience under such circumstances. It seems that the car next to mine (a '40 Ford), and my car (also a '40 Ford) became very fond of each other. When I drove out, the fenders kissed each other good night, and this passionate scene left me holding hands with a ten dollar damage suit.

Billy Southwell, Jack Williams and Allan Blaisdell took the cakes, respectively, at Delta Sigma Pi cake race.

Three Win Cakes In Deltasig Race

With a slight edge on 15 other participants, Billy Southwell, Jack Williams, and Allan Blaisdell were awarded prizes of a cake on October 4, at the annual Delta Sigma Pi Cake Race.

With a planned course to run at the Deltasig Lodge, the entries ran a three-quarter mile race while a "grand-stand sellout" of about 40 cheered them on.

Open house was held at the Lodge after the race for the fleet-footed men. It is said that Billy Southwell could hardly hold up his cake to have his picture made as winner.

The purpose of this race, which is open only to non-organization students, is to promote a better relationship between these two groups.

The banquet will begin at seven o'clock with the dance following at nine o'clock. The price of the tickets will be approximately $1.50 each.

Committees were appointed with Jack Beckham, chairman of the ticket committee, assisted by Sam Denmark, Bob Morris, Betty Cooper, Bill Edge and Tracy O'Neal. Jimmy Edwards was named chairman of the decoration committee, with Tony Zachos, Jewel Abt, Wanda Hamby and Mildred Berry assisting.

Tracy O'Neal suggested that the banquet be postponed until the day after Thanksgiving, November 28, inasmuch as a number of the boys who will attend the banquet and News briefs of happenings at other colleges all over the United States have begun pouring in as publications of college papers get under way and into the mail.

Out Georgia Tech way, the Navy Department has authorized use of part of the Atlanta Naval Air Station by the Georgia School of Technology for the establishment of a vocational technical institute. Tech's annual Homecoming was a smashing success, according to reports. The school's gymnasium was jam-packed with 1,900 students and their dates for one of the school's better dances in its social history.

Way down in Milledgeville, Georgia, at the Georgia State College for Women, fifteen freshmen were exempted from the first course of English according to their grades on the English placement tests. Also, fourteen members were added to the faculty this year.—The Colonnade.

Far south of here, enrollment at the Florida Southern College, Lakeland, Florida, soared to an all-time high at the beginning of the fall term with registration of over 2,000 students. Of the fall students, 800 are G.I.'s.—The Southern.

Coming back to Georgia, seven countries, including the United States, are represented in the new student body at Emory University. The countries represented are: Puerto Rico, England, Finland, China, Brazil, Cuba and Estonia.—The Emory Wheel.

Surplus Materials Furnish New University Building

Conversion Time Clipped By One Year - - Dr. Herod

By BOB WILLIS

Surplus war materials in every form, valued at about $800,000, figured prominently in converting and equipping the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia.

War assets, such as building materials, assorted machinery, desks, chairs, and tables, from Marietta's Bell Bomber Plant, Oak Ridge in Tennessee, local O.P.A. headquarters, and elsewhere, shortened conversion of the Ivy Street Garage by one year—that is the opinion of Dr. Newton S. Herod, dean, who worked many months procuring, distributing, and employing them.

The incomplete gymnasium-auditorium, being built mostly from surplus materials, will be valued at $250,000. Electronic equipment worth $107,000 and chemistry materials totaling $45,000 will stock the school's laboratories.

Oak Ridge supplied, among other things, a truckload of pipe; $17,000 in hand tools at one time, which were shared with other divisions; and plywood for partitions.

The Bell Bomber Plant furnished innumerable chairs, tables, and desks; about 26,000 two-by-fours; and most of the kitchen equipment in the cafeteria.

Sundries from other sources include: fifty typewriters, enabling typing classes to be doubled; twenty business machines of many types; intercommunication equipment not yet delivered; six giant pedestal type fans;

Filing cabinets valued at thousands of dollars, which were shared with other divisions; assorted industrial machines; medical cabinets, five extinguishers, and paint. Most of these materials were supplied at a time when they could not be had by any other means.

HOMECOMING

Tickets go on sale Wednesday, November 12, at $1.50 each, as stated above. During the time they are on sale no other tickets may be sold by any other organization in the school for any reason. This is a Student Council rule passed years ago by both Divisions, and fully supported by the school authorities.

Hildegard has "come and went" (thanks for the latter) . . . but if you find you didn't hear enough of her, Decca has an album of the "Incomparable." The records are: "SAGA OF JENNY," "MY SHIP," "ONE LIFE TO LIVE," "THIS IS NEW," and "GIRL OF THE MOMENT." Of a different type, but still speaking of albums: "Dorothy Shay Sings" by Columbia, offers novelty songs like "I'm in Love With a Married Man," which she does in her finest mountain style.

"So Far" is one of those hard-to-find combinations of a lovely melody and appealing words. Como and Sinatra both have recordings of same backed by "A Fellow Needs a Girl" (which is in a smooth, sentimental mood, too).

Cy Oliver gives out with plenty of jungle rhythm in "Civilization" . . . other pressings of this "bongo, bongo, bongo" stuff are: Woody Herman, Louis Prima and Jack Smith (his isn't so good!!)

Say you just want to relax? . . . Rubenstein has recorded the music from "Song of Love" in an album. Also, the First Piano Quartet worked out a nice arrangement of Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2." Don't say this isn't appropriate dance are scheduled to play a traditional fraternity game of football on Thanksgiving. Objections were raised by Betty Ann Wood on the grounds that the majority of the students preferred Wednesday, the 26th. Betty Cooper stated that many of the students preferred Wednesday because they had reserved that particular night for the dance and that the banquet was traditional. Bill Dodds thought it best that the banquet be held as scheduled because many of the students plan to be away from Atlanta on that weekend and would not remain over for Friday night. A motion was placed on the floor that the banquet be held as originally planned with details to be worked out by the committee. The motion was carried.

To date no orchestra has been booked for the dance. Many names were placed on the floor as possibilities, and a general discussion of dance bands followed. The decision is to be left up to the Banquet Committee.

C. N. S. Alumni Assn. Formed

The newly formed Alumni Association of Central Night High School is holding its first general meeting under its new organizational setup on Thursday, November 4, at Wooding's Cafeteria at 6 o'clock. All graduates of Central Night have been invited to attend, George Fields, temporary chairman of the body, announced this week.

A Constitution and By-Laws will be adopted at the meeting, effective with adoption. Election of officers for the balance of the year (until June, 1948) will also be held. Carroll Summer, past principle of the school, has been invited as the guest of honor.

Although the Alumni Association was started over a year ago, efforts were intensified only in the last summer of this year. The organization is now advancing under full steam and resembles a full-fledged alumni group at the present, according to a statement made by George Fields. It is growing rapidly, he said; almost as quickly as the news reaches former graduates. Many students of the Evening Division are also graduates of Central Night, and eligible for membership in the Alumni Association.

The election was handled by Jack Morris.

Election of the freshmen officers was postponed and will be held at some future time. Reason given for this action was the condition of the gym, in which the Freshman class was to have met. The gym, which is the only place large enough to hold the class, is expected to be ready in about three weeks.

The elections were given advance publicity in two issues of the SIGNAL, and notices were placed in the instructors' boxes on three different occasions. Originally scheduled to be held October 8, the elections were postponed in the hope that the gym would be ready for the Freshman class, but when it became clear that this was impossible the meetings were called for Monday, with the exception of the Freshman class.

THE SPORTING SCENE

By SHIRLEY THOMAS

Any cigarette shortage that might have been, is now relieved, 'cause Coach says that wind has gotta be built up. With all the athletes strutting around continually inhaling for better appearances, it's a cinch the sandlot is being used for something other than the alley-cat chorus line.

Boys' Basketball

With the loss of the '47 team's high-scorer, Julius Silverman, the present team may have to chin to stay on the up and up. However, a first draft brought such good material as Ben Edelstein, Bob Mitchell, Jim Hancock, Jim Richardson, Jerald Carden, Robert Hayes, Mack Couch, George Sconyers, Ralph Goodman, and Billy Teale, back to Coach Burgess. Any other candidates are urged to contact Burgess immediately. (Wonder if Trippi would be interested?)

Girls' Basketball

Coach Brenner informed the girls' team that new uniforms will be purchased as soon as the decision on the type uniform can be reached. Girls will be girls, even on a basketball court—so whether you will yell for a team in red and black or in red and white cannot as yet be determined. Practice has been slated to begin around November 1. Another gym will be used if the Division's is not ready at that time. The team will play with a fast league, and re-enter the city league to counteract any final scores in the former.

AKPsi-Deltasig Football

Practice for the annual Thanksgiving Day Alpha Kappa Psi-Delta Sigma Pi football game, of the Evening Division, has begun, and now instead of a Sunday date, these boys take a few dozen laps around Piedmont Park. The game is open to the student body, and will be played (Thanksgiving morning at North Fulton Park.

U. Five Begins Practice As '48 Cage Season Nears

By GENE ASHER

Crip shots, layups, and a zone defense will be the order of the day, October 29, when the Atlanta Division basketball team dons its uniforms and begins practice for the '48 season.

Coach Herbert "Stoney" Burgess expects to have both men's and women's squads rolling by the end of the month. He is none too optimistic about the men's team since he has lost Julius Silverman, last year's leading scorer, who has joined the pro ranks.

However, five veterans from the '47 squad are returning and there are several former high school players who will be on hand for the season. Leading candidates are Ben Edelstein, a starter from last year and Bob "Lefty" Mitchell, former Tech High star.

Edelstein has proved to be one of the most dangerous scoring threats in the state. One of the team's standouts last season, he previously was captain of the Commercial high five and was unanimously chosen on the NGIC all-star team. Mitchell was a starter on the '45 Smithy cagers and was the team's top scorer. Bob was captain of the squad and was selected on the GIAA all-star team.

Besides Edelstein, Jim Hancock, Jim Richardson, Jerald Carden, and Robert Hayes are other veterans from last year. Mack Couch, a stellar defensive player at Tech High; George Sconyers, a standout at Russell; Ralph Goodman, former Typist center; and Billy Teale are other promising candidates.

Coach Burgess reports that the schedule is in process and the Division will face GMC, Gordon Military, Abraham Baldwin, numerous junior colleges in the state, GMA, and a few local high schools. No date has been established for the initial tilt, but the coach expects to have it before Christmas. His team will also enter the state junior college tourney held in Macon the latter part of February.

All candidates who wish to try out for the team are requested to contact Coach Burgess immediately.

HONOR ROLL

3. The student must have a composite average of B plus for the quarters under consideration.

4. The student must be approved by the faculty for eligibility as a result of outstanding achievement in activities.

5. The student must have no incompletes, failures, E's, or W's outstanding on record. That is, courses with any such grades must be taken over.

Recognizing students who have done outstanding work for the preceding quarter, each quarter Sigma Pi Alpha publishes an honor roll. Although this list does not imply membership in the society, there are certain qualifications for listing on the honor roll. The requirements are as follows:

1. The student shall have a B average for the quarter in question, with no E's, no F's, no W's, no I's.

2. The student must have carried a full load for the quarter under consideration (not less than three courses) (three courses in summer school afternoon session).

3. The student must be regularly enrolled in the Day Division of the

H. G. Burgess Begins Second Year As Athletic Director

By GENE ASHER

One of the greatest and most versatile athletes ever produced at Macon's Lanier high school, Herbert Garrett Burgess, a graduate of the University of Georgia, is starting his second year as director of athletics at the Atlanta Division.

Better known as "Stoney", he began his athletic career during his freshman year at Lanier high, when he won a position on the Poets' varsity football team. The following season he made the starting eleven and in his junior and senior years he proved to be one of the deadliest tackles in the state as he was unanimously selected on the GIAA all-star team.

When basketball season rolled around, "Stoney" was rarin' to go. He played guard for three seasons on the Poet five and his brilliant court performances sparked the '37 team to the GIAA championship. Not satisfied with being a standout in two major sports, the four-letter man patrolled the gardens of the Lanier baseball team and was also the ace of the track squad, running the 440-yard dash and throwing the discus and shot put.

After being graduated from Lanier in June, 1937, the 29-year-old Carrollton, Ga.-born athlete enrolled at the University of Georgia. He easily won a position at tackle on the freshman football team and the following season he moved up to the varsity, where for three years he was one of the most dependable reserves in the Bulldog aggregation.

Being graduated from Georgia in 1941, he then took over the chief coaching duties at Lincoln high (Ga.), which post he held until he entered the service in May, '42. While serving in the Navy he gained further fame on the gridiron by being the stellar lineman on the undefeated '43 Banana River Air Base team which won the NAOT title.

Serving aboard an LST overseas, he saw action at Iwo Jima and Okinawa. Last year he was named athletic director of the division and coached his green cage team to the semi-finals of the state Junior college tournament.

"Stoney" is rapidly gaining coaching experience and in a decade or less he has a great chance of developing into one of the top coaches in the South.

Students May Buy Rampway

Although notices have been mailed to all students who ordered copies of the RAMPWAY earlier in the year, 250 annuals remain unclaimed in the bookstore.

Bill Marr, editor, urges all students who placed their orders to come by the bookstore with the balance due and secure their copy in order to clear the records. Other students who previously failed to place their order may obtain a copy for $3.00.

D.K. Incorporation Granted By Court

The Delta Kappa fraternity, the University of Georgia, Atlanta Division's newly reactivated social fraternity, announced last week that its formal incorporation had been granted by the Superior Court of Fulton County on September 30.

The Delta Kappa fraternity, which was founded at the Evening College in 1935, has as its incorporators five of the six charter members, two of whom are now serving on the teaching staff of the Center. These incorporators are Dean E. Dreyer and John W. Taliaferro. The other four incorporators are Carl A. Herbig and Raymond Styles, attorneys; W. Paul Clark, drug executive; and Ralph Moore, a member of Senator Russell's staff in Washington. The sixth charter member, Tilden L. Brooks, was not able to serve because of his residence in California. The presentation of the Charter was made at the regular monthly meeting of the fraternity.

S.K.C. Frat Forms Beta Chapter

A Beta Chapter of the Sigma Kappa Chi fraternity was formed at the Evening Division October 13 by students interested in such an organization.

The second meeting of this organization was held Tuesday, October 21, where elections of officers took place. The officers elected were: James S. Wilson, president; John C. Poss, vice president; Andrew J. Negas, secretary and chaplain; and William L. Chapman, pledge-master.

Commenting on the progress of the new organization, the recently elected president, James Wilson, stated:

"We hope to make many contributions toward helping make a good charitable organization."

Notices have been mailed to all students who placed their orders for the RAMPWAY last year, and additional notices will be mailed in the near future in an effort to distribute their remaining 250 copies.

Approximately 770 copies of the RAMPWAY were published this year. The book was received from the printers the middle of August, which was earlier than Emory, Georgia, Georgia Tech, and other colleges in this vicinity received theirs.

ORGANIZATION DOIN'S

By BETTY ANN KEMP and DOT LEMON

Rush season is over and everyone is pleasantly tired . . . some are, that is! Members of Phi Sigma Alpha and Tri-Beta enjoyed an exclusive "blue jean ball" at Fern's Farm of Fun Saturday, October 18. Everyone was dressed in their formal "jeans" topped with their favorite plaid shirt. Tri-Beta will celebrate Hallowe'en with a houseparty, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lemon. A wiener roast has been planned for November 8 at Chastain Park.

The Venetian Society's Harvest Dance will be in the Auditorium Friday, November 7. Tickets will be on sale by members in the lobby. When you see the pumpkins and cornstalks around the building, you'll know it's time for the Harvest Dance. Last year's sponsors did a "bang-up" job at English Park, October 14, with an Inflation Party, honoring members and the new sponsors. A Smoker was held at the Piedmont Hotel Sunday, October 26.

Rushes were entertained at a smoker afterward. Another smoker has been planned for November 2 at Chinese Gardens. Their Founders' Day Banquet has been set for November 9 at Ellen Rice Tea-room and will feature a prominent speaker. New pledges are: Fred Blackmon, Allan Blaisdell, Glenn Blaisdell, Billy Edge and Byron Farmer.

Sigma Kappa Chi of the Day Division has organized a Beta chapter in the Evening Division. Their first meeting was October 21, and officers in the new chapter are: James S. Wilson, president; John Poss, vice president; Andrew Negas, secretary; and James Molleson, treasurer.

Friday, October 24, the Spur Club sponsored a script dance in the rectory; it was the first dance of this kind in the history of the club. They entertained the Bit and Bridle Club of the Day Division with a two-hour ride near the River, Sunday afternoon, October 26. After the ride, plans were made for a houseparty at Sky Lake November 8-9. A moonlight ride is planned for this month.

Crimson Key met October 25 to consider the fall quarter rush list and to discuss helping with the World Student Service Fund.

On October 3, Delta Alpha Delta pledged the following at the school: Doris Andrews, Joan Bass, Margaret Baugham, Charlotte Buffington, Phyllis Burdette, Barbara Duke, Mary Helen Diven, Shirley Ellis, Rose Elyea, Mary Ann Frith, Alice Galt, Odine Greene, Verna Kennedy, Gay Kimbrough, Phyllis Kritzer, Luanne Lewis, Ruth Moore, Ann O'Berry, Donna Park, Rachael Peace, Billy Putnam, Vera Railey, Gwendolyn Staub, Sara Weinberg, Marilyn Wiggins, Peggy Ramsaur and Betty Ziegler.

Chi Rho Sigma's pledges were announced October 5 as: Nancy Aikens, Nancy Austin, Mary Elizabeth Cogburn, Ann Cochran, Marinell Hughes, Briceyln Johnson, Mariam Davis, Betty Garvey, Nancy Rush, Mickey Scarbrough, Jean Turner, Doris Hayes, Betty Thurman, Betty Ann Satterwhite, Jan Smith, Jean Jernigan, Jane Brooks, Janet Rogers, Anita Zimmer, Shirley Larmore and Helen Grinstead.

The Speakers Club entertained guests at a dinner meeting October 23 and planned a similar meeting for November 13 at Wooding's Cafeteria. The inter-collegiate debating schedule was discussed with a view toward encouraging more student participation in debates.

The school lodge had its face lifted to look like a dude-ranch, October 18, when Kappa Theta rushees were treated to a Wild-West party there. Dell Lanier, Mildred Collins and Joyce Daily will be pledged November 11.

Beginning October 20, Day Division IFC meetings will be twice monthly. A standing fee of 25¢ per member per meeting was announced. The Evening Division IFC committees for the combined dances are working out plans for financing these dances.

In case you didn't see many hob-goblins and the like October 25 (little early but they're out), they were gathered at the Alpha Kappa Psi country place for a Hallowe'en party. Jack Caldwell, Bob Kuetner and Jim Young recently pledged AKPsi.

The Demosthenian Society will meet each second and fourth Thursday at 6:00 p.m. at the school. All girls interested in learning to speak and debate are cordially invited to join the organization.

"The Howl Room" of the Indian Creek Lodge, Delta Lambda Sigma's version of a candle-lit rendezvous, was adorned with pink elephants for a night club party October 16. Guests were entertained with a floor show. Bobbie Darby was given a bid at a coke party October 22.

Intramural Key met Wednesday, October 15, at the school to make plans for the recent school year. Since only 12 of their 17 members will be in school this year, they have room for five more members. These new members will be chosen from men students in the Evening Division who take an active part in student affairs, have a "B" average and credit for 16 courses.

'Gunter & Humphreys'

Enterprising Ex-GI Students Begin Photography Business

By MILDRED BERRY

Displaying the individual initiative that is so characteristic of American free enterprise, Gunter and Humphreys are now in business.

Perhaps it would be well first to state what type of business these symbols of our country's foundation are engaged in, and how they are a manifestation of our American way (flag waving is the proper term). Photography.

Having stated their business, let us now move on to a recapitulation of their early struggles and disappointments, beginning this past summer—which is the only place to begin since that was when they first met. They had three classes together in the Evening Division, a coincidence which is a coincidence, you will agree.

One night Humphreys brought his brand-new camera to class with him. Gunter saw it, an acquaintance was begun with the common bond being photography.

Why don't we take pictures down here? Well, why not? Got a workshop? We can use the basement of our house. When do we start? What's wrong with right now? O. K. Shake. (Sounds like Information Please???)

Thus was born a partnership. For days on end (and on the side) the pair scoured the town looking for items of hard-to-get equipment. At least most people through it hard to get, but not Humphreys. "Impossible," he said.

Having accomplished the impossible, the partners set out to make their fortune. After hit and miss jobs sandwiched between Humphreys' assignments (he is an Army photographer), they hit what is tritely referred to as the jackpot—photos for Mike Benton and the Southeastern Fair.
