Sigma Kappa Chi Has Benefit Ball May 7

First Annual Affair Planned Aids Boys' Club Patrol Group

The first Annual Black and Gold Benefit Ball will be held by the Beta chapter of Sigma Kappa Chi May 7 from 8:30 to 12 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The purpose of the affair is to raise money to send as many members as possible of the Boys' Club who belong to the School Boy Patrol to the annual Schoolboy Patrol Convention in Washington, D. C., May 11. Music for the dance will be furnished by Wannie Hester and his band. Tickets, which may be purchased at the school, American Legion Post No. 1, and other places, will be $1.50 per couple, $1 stag.

"We wish to set up a fund to send six or eight boys every year," states John Poss, vice president of the Beta chapter. "This will give them an objective to work toward during the year and will help combat juvenile delinquency."

The Beta chapter is being aided in its work by numerous civic organizations, including the Kiwanis, Optimist, and Boys' clubs, the American Legion, and the police departments of Atlanta and Fulton County. Numerous handbills, radio announcements, 2,000 tickets, and 7,000 leaflets (5,000 of which will be 7,000 leaflets are being furnished the chapter free of charge.

Chiefs of Police Ellis and Jenkins, two representatives and a superintendent, R. M. Jones of the Boys' club, will be among those invited to the ball.

The minimum expense for the trip and the stay in Washington will be $45 for each boy.

New Constitution Proposed For E. D.

Voting On Wednesday In Five Class Meetings

On another page in this issue of the SIGNAL is published the text of the new Evening Division constitution. This constitution has been proposed as the Student Council constitution to replace the old one drawn up years ago, and which has become obsolete by the passage of time.

This new constitution was drawn up by the Constitutional Committee of Student Council, Gene Kyser, chairman. Appointed last quarter to revise the old constitution, the committee presented its recommendations to the Council on April 14. These were accepted by the Council, and must now be ratified by both the Faculty Student Activity Committee and by a majority vote of all five classes in the Evening Division in order to become official.

In the class meetings tonight this constitution will be proposed for ratification at the same time that nominations are made for the new student body president of the Evening Division.

The new constitution is essentially the same as the old one in most major provisions. The main difference is that the new document sets forth rules for holding elections, qualifications for the president, and establishes committees within the Council. Most of the other changes are minor.

Everyone has been urged by the committee to read this constitution so that its provisions will be known at the time of the vote on its ratification.

Members of the constitutional committee were: Gene Kyser, Ben Binford, All Kuettner, Phillip Maffett, Ben Riley, and Mark Morris.

Douglas Holds Rehearsals For Orchestra

By RICHARD ASHWORTH
Hey, buddy; or you, chicken!—gotta trumpet or a fiddle or something that will make music lying around the house?

Then you're just the person Theater Director Harold Douglas is looking for. Practice Sessions for a school orchestra are now being held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 p.m. in the auditorium.

So far, two rehearsals have been held and things look pretty good. But there's plenty of room for more. Trombonists, trumpeters, violinists, sax and clarinet players, drummers, pianists and a bass fiddle man are still needed. Eight people turned out for the first practice session April 20, and almost as many the following Thursday.

The school has already purchased sheet music for the orchestra and is willing to buy more if needed. The orchestra plays anything from Bach to boogie, so go on out and puff a few bars with the gang.

Debaters Elect Officers for '49

Edward B. Sutton, grand national champion in informative speech, was elected president of the Atlanta Division Debating Society at the April 13 meeting. He will serve next year.

Other officers chosen were: Jime Jones, vice president; Oleta Entrekin, secretary; Maxine Kirby, treasurer; and Jim Gunter, historian. The last-named office was newly created. These officers will succeed: Rick Hull, vice president; Bob Willis, secretary; and Gunter, treasurer.

D. D. Elections Slated for May 13

J. Jones, Davis To Vie For Presidential Post

Jime Jones and Pembroke Davis will vie for the office of president of the Day Division student body in elections to be held May 13.

Tommy Riggins and Betty Zeigler are candidates for the vice presidency. Candidates for other offices are: Mary Elizabeth Cogburn and Betty Battle for secretary; Mary Helen Diven and Nancy Roush for treasurer.

These nominations were made at an assembly of the student body the morning of April 22.

Jime Jones, present vice president of the student body, was recently named next year's vice president of the Debating Society. He was chosen most influential and most dependable in the superlative elections.

"A few weeks ago," said Jones in his statement to the student body through the SIGNAL, "your school paper gave me the privilege of entering an article in the Guest Column. In that article I stated, first of all, the reasons this school is not functioning as a unit and secondly, a way whereby this fellowship could be realized.

"The platform as stated then was not changed: mainly, intermural and intercollegiate contests of various sorts, both athletic and intellectual, so that all students would find some organizations of which they would enjoy being a member."

Pembroke Davis, a junior, is a member of the Student Council and of the Masons.

"I am entirely new at this," stated Davis, "but I want to assure the students that, if elected, I will support any measure, do anything they wish to be done."

Eight other nominees for student body office are out of the race, either having been made ineligible by failure or having declined the nominations.

Booths will be set up in the lobby on election day in such a way that only one person may vote at a time. The polls will be open that day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

No organized campaigning will be allowed on the day of election. If any candidate wishes to contest the result, he must make this known within two hours after the counting of the ballots, which will be done in public by a member of the Student Council.

Any contestation will be aired before the Student Council, who will render a decision upon the validity of the election. A unanimous vote will be required for any decision.

PAUL OTWELL ELECTED E.D. STUDENT PRESIDENT

Elections Procedure Follows Past Method Honors Night, Balloting After Nominations To Be Discarded

By GENE KYSER

Paul Otwell was elected president of the Evening Division student body for next year, as this issue of the SIGNAL went to press.

Otwell was nominated by all five classes on Wednesday night, May 5, and so becomes the only eligible candidate. The general elections originally scheduled for May 26 will not be held. The full story will be carried in the next issue.

Another item of business for the classes was a ratification vote on the new Evening Division student council constitution, text of which is printed in this issue of the SIGNAL.

The complete procedure to be followed in electing the student body president can be found in the Elections article of the new constitution. This is mainly the policy followed in the past.

Each class nominates, by ma-majority vote, a candidate for president. The candidate must come from the list of eligible students as released by the registrar's office; this list is being printed in this issue of the SIGNAL.

All candidates so nominated will conduct a two-week campaign, including a short speech to the student assembly at Honors Night on Wednesday, May 12.

The balloting will be 2 weeks later. (Continued on Page 4)

Nominations Invalid, Say 2 Council Members Charge No Quorum Present; 'Ridiculous,' Say Others

By RICHARD ASHWORTH

Two Student Council representatives charged Thursday, April 22, that nominations for student body officers made that morning during an assembly were "a violation of the Constitution" and were "invalid and illegal since there was no quorum of the student body present."

Vigorously pounding a desk, Buddy Griffin, Business Law, two o'clock, said "not over 400" students were present during the nominations. This is not a quorum of the 1,200 students enrolled in the Day Division, he said.

Griffin suggested that the Constitution be rewritten to cover such loopholes and that a policy should be adopted to "give each student an opportunity to participate in the nominations."

"We are working in the interest of the student body. That is what the Student Council is for," said

Dramatics, Music To Be Taught in Fall

Large Sums Voted for Music, Commerce; New Lot Surveyed

Liberal art courses, including dramatics and music, will be offered at the Atlanta Division beginning this fall, Dr. George M. Sparks told an assembly of the student body, Thursday, April 22.

Dr. Sparks also revealed that engineers are now making surveys and ground soundings for the $40,000 library-research center to be built on the lot recently acquired from the City of Atlanta.

To be housed temporarily in either the space presently occupied by the bowling alley or on the roof, the new department will be under the direction of Prof. Hal

Neon Sign Arrives

A neon electric sign, approximately four by forty feet, bearing the words, "Atlanta Division, University of Georgia," was placed over the school entrance April 21.

The sign, several months late in arriving, is so placed that it can be seen at the intersection of Pryor and Edgewood. It will be lighted every evening.

Cast For 'Hay Fever,' Comedy, Is Selected To Be Given May 20-21-22; Douglas Says Cast 'Best Yet'

The cast has been selected for the University Players' presentation of Noel Coward's "mad" five-act comedy, "Hay Fever," which will be given May 20-21-22, Theatre Director Harold Douglas announced April 22.

"Hay Fever" is concerned with the home life of a family which gets into tangled love troubles from an overflow of week-end guests. The main characters, including a retired actress, a novelist, and a cartoonist, fall in love with the guests and almost end in a matrimonial mix-up. The daughter, described as "the only sane member of the family," saves the day.

"It's very mad," said Douglas. "The new cast for the play is the best group we ever had," he said. "The actors are all new, except one. They all come from my two Act-

Controversy on Nominations

Buddy Griffin and Edgar Chambers, at a meeting of the Day Division Student Council Thursday, April 22, charged that nominations for student body officers made that morning were "a violation of the Constitution" and were "invalid and illegal since there was no quorum of the student body present."

They based their contentions on their interpretation of Art. VI, Sec. 2 of the Constitution which states: "A quorum of the Student Body shall be a majority of the students enrolled in any quarter in which a roll is taken." Article VI of the Constitution does not pertain to or govern the nomination of student body officers, but to the ratification of the Constitution, amendments to the Constitution and quorums. It is headed: "Ratification, Amendments, Quorums."

Section 4, Article VIII, which alone governs the nomination of candidates for student body offices, states: "Nomination of candidates for office in the Student Body, as set forth in Article III, Section 1, shall be from the floor in a general meeting of the Student Body, at least three weeks prior to the time set for election. Notice of the purpose of this assembly must have been made public at least three days before the assembly is held." There is no mention in this article of the requirement that a quorum of the Student Body be present.

Article IX of the Constitution states: "All questions of procedure or interpretation pertaining to the Constitution or to any phase of student government shall be governed by Robert's Rules of Order." Following is a quotation from these Rules: "In large organizations, meeting weekly or monthly for one or two hours, it is the exception when a majority of the members is present at a meeting, and therefore it has been found necessary to require the presence of only a small percentage of the members to enable to assembly to act for the organization, or, in other words, to establish a small quorum."

Judging from these two sources of information, Griffin and Chambers apparently had no grounds on which to contest the validity of the nominations. And even if they did have sufficient grounds, it would be a practical impossibility to prove whether they are right or wrong, since there is no way of determining the number of students present at the assembly. Therefore, it seems a waste of time and effort to even consider their contentions when there are so many other things the Council can do for the students.

Griffin also said that a policy should be adopted to "give each student an opportunity to participate in the nominations." This is an admirable attitude on his part, and such a policy is already in effect. The time and purpose of the meeting was made public three days prior to the time it was held; all students were encouraged to attend; and no one was barred from the meeting. Further, any student may still vote for anyone he chooses by simply writing the name of the person on the ballot.

Sigma Kappa Chi Benefit Ball

Lack of school spirit at the Atlanta Division has been the subject of several editorials appearing in recent issues of the SIGNAL. Other columns have been devoted to a similar treatment of juvenile delinquency, which apparently has hit a new high in our modern, swiftly moving mechanized world.

Sigma Kappa Chi, Beta Chapter, has devised a plan which its members believe will be a big step toward combating local juvenile delinquency and at the same time will induce more school spirit into the student body.

The fraternity will hold its first annual Gold and Black Benefit Ball on May 7, Friday night. All profits derived from the dance will be placed at the disposal of leaders of the Atlanta Boys' Club and Fulton County Police Chief Neal Ellis, who will select two or more boys on the school patrol of their respective schools to attend the National School Boy Patrol Convention in Washington, D. C. the following week.

That is where the juvenile delinquency angle enters into the picture.

The Boys' Club is located in a poorer section of town, where the youngsters, whose parents cannot give them all the comforts and advantages of life, are more or less "looked after" during the afternoons and early evenings by the competent staff of the club.

The boys are taught how to live clean, how to play clean, and they learn respect, instead of hatred and contempt, for police officers and law enforcement officials.

As has often been said, a boy with a baseball bat over his shoulder or a football under his arm is seldom seen at Police Headquarters.

It is the intention of Sigma Kappa Chi that the trip will serve as an incentive for the boys to work harder throughout the year and that it will give them something to dream about, to think about and will provide them with an educational experience that they will long remember. This trip will tend to make the boys use their initiative and reserve in striving to do better in school, at home, and in their community.

Requests have been made in the SIGNAL for more annual affairs at the school to help develop the lacking school spirit. This dance, if backed by the organizations and individuals on the campus and off, will be one great stride toward alleviating the present dormate school enthusiasm.

Through this medium, then, it is hoped that both problems will be combatted with an ultimate victorious end.

Not "Just Another Election" This Time

We would like to call your attention to the nominations for Evening Division president Wednesday, May 5.

This is not just another election, it's the election of the year. And the men who are eligible to run for this highest student office in the school are selected by you in class meetings.

A list of those eligible is published in this issue of the SIGNAL. A copy of the procedure to be followed will be found in the Elections article of the new constitution, also printed in this issue.

Each of the five classes—Senior, Junior, Pre-Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman—meet separately and elect a nominee to represent their class. Therefore, the number of nominees could be as low as one or as high as five.

For the past two years four of the five classes have nominated the same man. By the shifting of just a few votes in the remaining class (ten votes would have been enough last year), there would have been only one candidate.

Under this condition, which did almost happen twice in recent years, there would have been no general election and many students would not have been given an opportunity to express their preference.

So it is that the nominations are important.

AL KUETTNER

Here And There

The editor of the Signal is very generous. He once told me I could write this column about anything I wanted to. That gives me the excuse for this one which I don't want to write at all, because it's Spring and I'm lazy.

Usually when columnists on big newspapers give out of something to write about they fill up twice the normal amount of space crying to their readers about the hard life of a columnist. But I'm not going to do that either.

I'd rather tell you about the disappointed girl who came to the Buttermilk Ball with five dates and couldn't get in. Minnie Quarts is a girl cow, but she's about as famous, socially speaking, as most any lady you could name.

It seems the Venetian Society, which had this big costume dance the other night out at Peachtree Gardens, decided to invite Minnie to have the place of honor in the leadout. The Venetians called Minnie's folks out at Irvindale Dairy and made all the arrangements.

On the appointed evening Minnie was one of the first girls to show up. She had a pert ribbon in her hair, new slippers on her tootsies and not one but five dates. Nice looking dates, too, dressed in their dance-going duds.

Somebody who said they could tell what girl cows were thinking about said Minnie was excited about the Buttermilk Ball. And I guess she was, although Goodness knows, this wasn't her first dance by any means. She had been to the Rainbow Roof and to the Paradise Room and to all the other ballrooms around town. She'd even been up in an airplane which is something a lot of girls can't say. But anyway, she was on her best behavior.

Then all trouble broke loose. The management said she couldn't come in. Minnie! Excluded! Ostracized!

Well, it was a pathetic sight, in a way. There went Minnie with a hurt look in her big eyes, her head kinda hanging and her pert ribbon drooping a little, and her five dates surrounding her trying to comfort her. They told her not to worry, that they'd take her some place real nice.

And personally, I hope she gets to go real soon.

But getting back to serious things, a teacher was trying to explain to his class a difficult chemical reaction the other night. He could tell that nobody was catching on, so to guard against getting into deeper water, he warned:

"Now, don't ask me any questions about this. I'll just get you all confused."

* To which a student responded:

"Then don't you ask us a lot of questions about it, either."

I am worried about the unfortunate fellow who is trying to sell his engagement ring through an advertisement on the school bulletin board.

Because he wants to sell the symbol of oncoming marital bliss in the first place we must suspect that things didn't turn out right. But to add to his troubles, he seems to be having difficulty locating a buyer.

He appears to be a generous sort, for right away he offered the ring which he values at $125 for a trifling $60. Recently, I have noticed the ad—getting a little smudged—is still intact, but with some plaintive corrections. It's now up for outright sale at $50 or the owner will trade it for one good 8 mm. movie camera. I certainly hope this fellow has some luck.

But romance is not yet dead in the Evening Division of the University. Far from it.

A fair coed glanced out a classroom window the other night and the sight of the big yellow full moon caused a deep-down, moving and quiet audible sigh to escape from somewhere within her soul.

All of which caused the teacher sufficient concern to come to the rear of the class to find what was the matter with his student. She just pointed to the moon. I suppose it was one of those things she couldn't discuss with a mere teacher.

Dr. Sparks, the University Director, also gets that far-away look in his eyes. His condition seems to be caused by the sunshine and not moonlight.

I found him the other evening about twilight gazing into the sky in the direction of our new property across from the auditorium. He said he was visualizing where the sunset would paint the top windows of the new library building.

I hope it's stained glass, just for Dr. Sparks' sake.

Our Guest Says

By WILLIAM N. EDGE, JR.

We are all proud of our school and are interested in making it better and more attractive than it is now. With this thought in mind let us think of a suggestion that will help our lodge at Indian Creek.

As each of us know, one of the great advantages of this school is the Lodge at Indian Creek, which, with its swimming pool, outdoor grills and picnic facilities, provides opportunity for having a get-together each quarter.

One great improvement for the school would be for the Student Council to take charge of the setting of dates for this Lodge. The school has expanded so much in the past years that it would be an advantage for someone to take the dates possible for the class parties and coordinate them in such a way that each class will have a date to use the Lodge. As it is now, "first come, first served"—and that leaves out many classes that want to have dates for parties, but cannot because there are insufficient dates for everyone.

If, at the beginning of the quarter, the Student Council would set dates for the classes to go to the Lodge; possibly even put two or three classes together, if necessary; then this would provide plenty of time for everyone to use the Lodge.

As stated, there are many small improvements that could be effected to help the students of this school, and I, for one, think that if they coordinated the dates of the Lodge, it would be a definite advantage to the students.

The librarian and his staff hope that you did take time out to look over the list of new books that have been added to our shelves since last September. The purpose of this display was to give you an opportunity to look over the names of new books added. The librarian is greatly indebted to Miss Ruth Corry, one of the assistant librarians, for this display and others that you have seen throughout the year.

Modern Economic Thought by Allan G. Gruchy has as its purpose to inquire into the nature and significance of the American movement to reconstruct economic science. Historians in the field of economics now concede that the movement to revamp economics is the most distinctive American contribution to the progress of economic science. The general aim, then, of this book is to explain in detail the nature and scope of the various types of economics—institutional, collective, quantitative, social, experimental, and administrative. The contribution of the principal exponent of each type of economics is discussed also.

Rebuilding the World Economy, America's role in foreign trade and investment by N. S. Buchanan and F. A. Lutz is the report and recommendations of the 20th Century Fund's Committee on Foreign Economic Relations on the present world economic problems. This committee recognizes the fact that the economic prosperity of the United States is dependent upon the economic welfare of the other countries of the world. This report is divided into two parts—(1) factual and analytic and (2) a program for action. The first part gives the background of facts and history that is necessary to understand the issues of today while the second part contains a statement of policies which the committee has formulated to meet these

In Memoriam

In memoriam to David Edward Ungar, who passed away two weeks ago, we reprint here his last poem. Less than a month after this poem on the Easter eggs was mailed to his friends, Mr. Ungar was no longer with us. He will be remembered by many students as the registrar at Central Night School, and by many others because of his interest in the Atlanta Division.

Mr. Ungar enjoyed writing. His offerings have been published locally in the Journal, Constitution, Modern Knight (CNS), Two Bells, the University Signal, the Flambo, and other publications. He could write a poem for any occasion, the Molly Hen and Brer Rabbit series probably being his best known.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE EASTER EGGS

Brer Rabbit met Miz Molly Hen
Out by de ole pine tree;
Miz Hen she say: "How's you today?"
"Mighty fine," sez Brer Rabbit, sezee;
Miz Molly ax: "Now, whut's de facks,
'Bout dis, whut's puzzlin' me:

How does you lay dem purple eggs,
—An' dem whut's striped blue?
An' pink an' gold, an' red an' green,
An' polky-dotted, too?
How come you lays jest Easter-days,
An' not de whole year through?"

Us Domineckers lays a egg
Ez white ez new-fall snow;
SOME hens lays brown; but DAT'S
ez fur
Ez any HEN kin go;
Now rabbits lays most ANY kind,
• But HOW,—I'd like to know?

"To tell de honest trufe, Miz Hen,
You see, hit's dis yere way:
• We LAYS 'em WHITE, 'most every night—
An' we colors 'em up—next day!"

"We takes de red fum de sunset sky,
An' green fum de ole pine tree;
De yaller come fum de yaller sun,
Brown come fum sassafox tea;
De blue we take fum de ole lake,— Hit's blue ez blue kin be!"

Mix Hen she started takin' notes,—
Brer Rabbit went on wid his tale:
"Jest take my advice," Brer Rabbit sez,
"An' dem colors jest caint flay—
An' stir in a dab o' Georgy clay,
Ef de red looks kinder pale!"

Brer Rabbit lope off down de road,
Wid a chuckle o' rabbit glee;
Miz Hen she sot a while—an' den—
"Dat MIGHT be true" sez she.
(Now chillun, I's tole you all I know—
Dat's all Mix Hen tole me!)

Sunday, May 2, Delta Sigma Pi elected new officers for the coming year. The final professional program for the year will be held Sunday, May 16. Pledging was held Wednesday, April 28.

Delta Lambda Sigma entertained their rushees at a Hayride Thursday, April 29, at English Park. Plans are being made for a houseparty later in the summer.

The Spur Club held a surprise birthday party for Jimmie Edwards Saturday, April 18, at Louise Tinsley's. A Progressive Dinner is being planned for Saturday, May 15. Final plans for a houseparty, July 4, at Sky Lake have been completed. New officers were elected Sunday, April 25, preceding a rush ride.

The Glee Club began practicing April 27, preparing for Graduation and Honors Night. A party will be held May 7 at Indian Creek Lodge. Andrew Negas, Bobby Powell, and Jimmie Edwards were given letters at the last meeting. Five 'Gold Keys' will be presented to outstanding "Glee Clubbers" honors night. These have not been awarded since 1941.

The members of Tri Beta will dress in "blue jeans" for their horse back ride and picnic to be held at North Fulton Park. Afterward, they will be entertained with a dinner party at the home of Norma Chambers.

Delta Alpha Delta are making plans for their formal at Peachtree Gardens, May 14, from nine till one. A breakfast at Ship Ahoy will follow the dance. A script dance was held Friday, April 16.

Chi Rho Sigma had an informal get-together Saturday, April 24. Tiny Jones entertained with a wiener roast at her home. Formal initiation was held afterward. Sunday, April 30, the members entertained patients at Lawson General Hospital. Their Spring Formal will be held May 29 in the Gym. Complete plans will be announced later.

Sigma Kappa Chi, Alpha and Beta Chapters, held a joint rush function Tuesday, April 13, at Ferns Farm for Fun. Members, rushees and their dates attended. It was a combination hay ride and barn dance. The dress for the evening was dungarees and sport shirts. Jack Rice and his "hillbilly" trio furnished the mountain music. A rush function in the form of a stag dinner was held Tuesday, April 27, at American Legion Post 1.

On April 27, Alpha Kappa Psi entertained rushees at a Beer Party at their lodge. A professional meeting was held at Ellen Rice Tea Room April 27.

Druid Hills Country Club was the scene of the Chi Phi Theta tea dance, March 27. Music was by Alvin Peck. The regular monthly meeting was held at the school on April 17, with a rush function in the form of a tea at the Plantation House. Rushees attending were: June Van Sickle, Doris Van Sickle, Mary Jean Etheridge, Mildred Murray and Evelyn Terrell. A square dance was planned for May 1.

Jabez Galt, president of Intramural Key, has disclosed that the six newly elected members to this honor society will be announced Honors Night.

Bobby Henson's orchestra furnished the fine music for Delta Kappa's Spring Formal in the gym, April 24. The gym was elaborately decorated in the theme of Starlight and was offset by the fraternity's emblem on stage. Officers and some of the faculty made up the reception line.

John Bearden, Gordon Flagg, Bob Lambert, Bill Leonard, Joe Love, and Charles Vaughn were recently pledged to Delta Kappa. They will be initiated May 8 and 9.

FLASH: The lucky winner of the Philco model radio was R. L. Faine. The raffle was held Friday night, April 30, and was sponsored by the Glee Club.

E. D. Constitution Student Council

PREAMBLE

It shall be the purpose of the Student Council to express the will of the majority of the student body through the guidance of student activities; to strive toward an ever closer understanding between the faculty and students; and to work toward the betterment and growth of the Atlanta Division, University of Georgia.

ARTICLE I—NAME

Sec. 1. The name of this organization shall be the Evening Division Student Council of the Atlanta Division, University of Georgia.

ARTICLE II—ORGANIZATION

Sec. 1. The voting membership of the Council shall consist of the presidents and vice-presidents of the classes, the classroom representatives, the editor of the University Signal (if an Evening Division student), the editor of the Rampway (if an Evening Division student), and the president of the Interfraternity Council of the Evening Division. Their membership in the Council shall run concurrently with their term of office.

Sec. 2. The Council may seat as a non-voting member a representative sent by any recognized non-fraternal organization of the Evening Division.

Sec. 3. The presidents and the vice-presidents of the Senior, Junior, Pre-Junior, Sophomore and Freshman classes shall be members with the power to vote. When and if there is a Graduate class, the president and vice-president of that class shall also be members of the Council with the power to vote but without the privilege to hold office.

Sec. 4. On Wednesday night of the second full week of school in each quarter (with the exception of the summer quarter) a Student Council representative shall be elected from each six o'clock to seven thirty (PM) classroom (or corresponding classroom) to serve on the Council as a representative from that particular classroom and during that particular quarter. They shall also conduct classroom meetings when necessary.

Sec. 5. The Freshman, Sophomore, Pre-Junior, Junior, Senior, and Graduate classes shall each elect at the beginning of the school year (date to be determined by the Student Council president) a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary and a Treasurer. These officers shall serve throughout the school year and until their successors are elected and qualified the following year.

Sec. 6. No person may be president or vice-president of a class and one of the classroom representatives to the Student Council at the same time. Any person so elected must refuse one of the positions, and provision made to elect his successor.

Sec. 7. Except as otherwise indicated herein, all meetings of the Council shall be conducted according to Roberts Rules of Order.

ARTICLE III—PURPOSES AND DUTIES

Sec. 1. In order to carry out the purpose of this Constitution as set forth in the Preamble, the Student Council shall exercise the following duties:

Sec. 2. It shall hold regular meetings, at least once each month throughout the Fall, Winter and Spring quarters. Special meetings may be held at the discretion of the Student President or of the Executive Committee of the Student Council.

Sec. 3. It shall exercise a general supervision of all student activities, subject to the approval of the Student Activity Committee of the faculty. A major part of such supervision shall be student elections.

Sec. 4. The Council, with the approval of the Student Activity committee, shall call and have charge of mass meetings and/or classroom meetings of the student body for the purpose of informing the student body, or securing an expression of sentiment from the students on matters pertaining to the welfare of the school and of the student body.

Sec. 5. It shall act in an advisory capacity to all classes on matters pertaining to class activities. It must approve in advance any social activity of any class as to the nature, time, place, and other plans. When so approved the activity shall become a joint responsibility of the class and of the Council, and every assistance shall be given the class toward the success of the event.

Sec. 6. It shall sponsor general school social events, including such events as the Annual Homecoming Banquet.

Sec. 7. It shall assist in the supervision of the conduct and content of all student publications, such as the University Signal, the Rampway, and the Flambo.

Sec. 8. The Council shall approve or reject in the Spring quarter each year a staff consisting of the editors and business managers of the Rampway, the Flambo, and the University Signal. This staff shall be selected by the school Board of Publications, which consists of representatives from the Evening Division, the Day Division, and the school authorities. The Evening Division representatives shall include the retiring editors and the president of the Student Council.

Sec. 9. The Council shall have the right to enact and revise By-Laws for the proper execution of the duties granted them in this Constitution.

ARTICLE IV—ELECTIONS

Sec. 1. The Elections Committee of the Student Council shall be responsible for seeing that all elections are carried on in a democratic manner, and shall conduct all necessary arrangements. The Council itself shall have general supervision.

Sec. 2. A President of the Evening Division student body shall be elected for a term of one year. He shall be elected during the Spring quarter of each year, and shall also serve as president of the Student Council. He must meet the following qualifications:

Sub-Sec. A. He must be a regularly enrolled member of the Evening Division Junior class during the quarter in which he is nominated, and be able to graduate by June of the following year.

Sub-Sec. B. He must have a minimum of 26½ course credits, with a composite average of C plus.

Sub-Sec. C. He must have attended the Evening Division for at least three quarters prior to his nomination.

Council Raffle Profits Pay Near Half of Debts

Proceeds of the recent Student Council raffle amounted to $83. President Jimmy Troy announced at a meeting of the Council April 22. The money was used to remove part of a debt of over $200 incurred by past Council-sponsored activities.

Debts of $9.60 to a printing concern and $25 to Bob Henson's orchestra were paid in full and payments were made on three individual debts owed to people inside the school. Payments totaling $48.40 were made to students in the school who, according to a member of the Council, "saved the Council from a very embarrassing situation" recently when they reached into their own pockets and paid a Council obligation.

President Troy told the assembled group that the persons took "money out of their own pockets to help us out. They gave their money in good faith and we should pay it back the same way."

Members of the group were at first undecided as to which debt should first be paid. A motion was passed, however, that debts which had been incurred on contracts should be paid first and then others paid partly or in full.

A motion put before the group for paying interest on the debts was voted down. The members felt that since interest was not included in the contracts, it was not their obligation to pay that interest.

Troy appointed a committee to meet Friday, April 23, to decide on further activities for raising money to pay the remaining debt of $120.60.

Committee members are as follows:

Jim Jones, Edgar Chambers, Buddy Griffin, Pembroke Davis, John Queen, Margaret Windley, Bertha Benning and George Woods.

Sparks Speaks To 6 Civic Clubs

Six talks on the Atlanta Division have been made recently before civic organizations by Dr. George M. Sparks, director.

The organizations were: American Businessmen, Atlanta Kiwanis Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Marietta Civitan Club, Airport Kiwanis Club, and the Atlanta Personnel Club.

'Pandemonium' Reigns At Buttermilk Ball

By BETTY ANN KEMP

"The abode of all the demons; in Milton, the capital of Hell or the palace of Satan; loosely, the infernal regions; hell." "... a wild lawless or riotous place; wild uproar, infernal noise or tumult."

That's how Noah Webster defines Pandemonium and it's a perfect label for conditions at Peachtree Gardens April 22 when the Venetians held their 18th annual Buttermilk Ball.

All Venetians wore the traditional tux pants, white shirt and purple sash... that is, all but one, Dub Thompson, who appeared in his (whisper) BVD's.

Barbara Darby and Loraine Hopkins, the two sponsors, looked fetching in their identical white evening dresses as they and officers of the Society were formally introduced to the crowd. Paul Otwell, president, presented the sponsors with nosegays and sterling cups in appreciation for their services this year.

Following this "ceremony" members of the organization and their dates danced a Special to "Buttermilk Day" — a fitting tune for the occasion.

As usual, there was a wide variety of costumes but they seemed a little more elaborate than last year. Two couples came as the devil and an angel, but one of the couples was distinguished by a lighted halo for the angel and a red light on the end of the devil's tail.

Bill Marr brought one of his Harlem girls, Barbara Brewton, at tired in a tantalizing black net outfit. A number of gypsies gathered for the merrymaking — Jane Boyd, Margaret Slocum and Madge Williams — to mention a few.

Little Red Riding-Hood and the wolf were there. Virginia Taylor, as a sailor, and her hula-girl, Don, made a charming couple.

Highlight of the evening was the awarding of prizes for the cutest, most original costumes. Betty Hughes and John Mahl were recognized as the cutest couple with their version of an Italian organ-

Speakers Club Elects Officers For Next Year

New Speakers Club officers elected for next year at their regular business meeting of April 22 were: Gene Kyser, president; John Williams, vice president; Richard Morrison, secretary; Hugh Johnston, treasurer; Harold Welden, historian; Prof. Lloyd Baughman, faculty advisor; and Fred Branan, alumni advisor.

These newly-elected officers will be installed formally at a banquet on Thursday May 6, at the Ellen Rice tea room.

At the same meeting Fred Branan and Ford Rives were voted honorary memberships in the organization. They become the third and fourth men so honored since the organization was founded in 1932.

grinder and his-a good-a monkey.

Awards for the outstanding male and female costumes were given to Betty Jane Fields — a Flora-Dora follies girl, and Beverly Yancey — a first class ho-bo.

Sam Denmark and Anne Greer caused much comment with their minstrel "get-up."

"Ferdi" and "Liza" were seen around in their burlap sacks. Henry Alexander was a gay-ninety's life guard; Dawn McKenzie and Bill Poss, Royal Mounted Police; John Poss, a bull; Jimmy Strickland, a beach comber; Peggy Maffett and Buddy Baker, clowns; Kathryn Miller, convict; Betty Bralley, Gibson Girl; Doris Van Sickle, KKK member — the list could go on indefinitely without many duplications. Cute little Ruth Graves Webb looked cute and sweet in her Valentine costume.

Pickett Hines was most original in her venetian blind rigging — it fit the theme perfectly.

From all appearances, the Ball was a howling success — the music was tops and from the latest reports, Peachtree Gardens is still holding its own after the strain.

Sub-Sec. D. He must be of good character and recognized leadership abilities.

Sec. 3. During each Spring quarter (on the date set by the Elections Committee of the Council) the Freshman, Sophomore, Pre-Junior, Junior and Senior classes shall meet for the purpose of nominating a candidate for President of the student body.

Sec. 4. A list of all eligible students will be posted on the bulletin board, and notice will be given of the nominations at least two weeks in advance.

Sec. 5. These candidates so nominated shall be given an opportunity to address the student body assembled. The vote shall be taken approximately three weeks after nomination. Candidates will be introduced to all six o'clock classes, and ballots will be distributed and collected during the same period, by the business managers of the opposing candidates. The vote shall be counted the same night, with representatives of all candidates being allowed to witness the tally. A majority vote shall be necessary for election to student body president.

Sec. 6. The Council shall elect a Vice-President, a Secretary, and a Treasurer at the first meeting of the Council following the election of class officers each Fall quarter. All members of the Council shall be eligible. The officers so elected shall become members of the Council until their successors are duly elected the following year. No pro-tem officers shall be appointed by the Council president.

ARTICLE V—OFFICERS AND THEIR DUTIES

Sec. 1. The President of the student body shall be the president of the Student Council. His duties shall be to preside at regular and special meetings of the Council and of the student body. He shall have the right to vote on all questions coming before the Council. It shall be his duty to call special meetings of the Council when the occasion demands. He shall enforce a due performance of this Constitution and the By-Laws of the Student Council. He shall be ex-officio a member of all committees appointed.

Sec. 2. The Vice-President shall assist the President in the administrative duties of the Council and shall be jointly responsible for the Council activities. He shall serve in the capacity of the President in the temporary absence of the latter, and shall serve as President in the latter's permanent absence until a successor can be regularly elected by the student body. He shall have such other duties as may be assigned to him by the President or the Council.

Sec. 3. The Secretary shall maintain the minutes, rolls, and such other records as shall be required by the Council. He shall be responsible for notifying all Council members of the time and place of all meetings of the Council, for providing a copy of the Council minutes to the University Signal, and shall also have such other duties as may be assigned to him by the President or the Council.

Sec. 4. The Treasurer shall have the custody of all Council funds and shall maintain records necessary to his office. He shall present these records for such audits as may be required by the Council. The Treasurer shall be ex-officio a member of any committee appointed which is to handle any considerable sum of money. He shall have such other duties as may be assigned to him by the President or the Council.

ARTICLE VI—COMMITTEES

Sec. 1. The President shall appoint all committee chairmen and committeemen, subject to approval of the Council. All committee members must be members of the Council, with the exception of the Homecoming Banquet committee.

Sec. 2. The Executive committee shall consist of the Vice-President of the Student Council, the editor of the University Signal (if an Evening Division student), the chairman of the Elections committee of the Council, a president of one of the classes, and seven to ten other members to be elected by the council. The President shall be chairman. The Executive committee shall assist the President in the performance of his duties, and may handle such other matters as may be determined by the Council.

Sec. 3. The co-chairmen of the Publications Committee shall be the editors of the Rampway and the University Signal, provided that if such individual be not an Evening Division student he shall not be on the committee. The Publications committee shall receive any comment or suggestion on the conduct and content of the student publications.

Sec. 4. The Elections committee shall handle arrangements for all student elections, with the exception of any initial elections held at the first of the Fall quarter before the committee is appointed. The committee shall be responsible for assuring fair and democratic elections. It shall actually distribute, collect, and tabulate ballots for student body president each Spring quarter. The Elections committee shall continue to function until election of the following quarter's Student Council.

Sec. 5. The Homecoming Banquet committee shall be responsible for all arrangements necessary for staging the annual banquet. The committee will work directly with the Council, the President of the Council, and the school authorities. The Homecoming Banquet Committee chairman shall be appointed by the President. The chairman shall appoint his own sub-committee chairmen, subject to approval of the Council president.

Sec. 6. The president shall appoint such other committees and committee chairmen as he deems necessary, and their duties shall be determined by him, subject to the approval of the Council.

ARTICLE VII—AMENDMENTS

Sec. 1. This revised constitution shall supersede all provisions of the previous Evening College constitution adopted May 2, 1944, copy of which shall become a part of the permanent record of this present constitution.

Sec. 2. The Student Council, the school authorities, or any class may propose amendments to this Constitution.

Sec. 3. Properly proposed amendments shall become a part of this Constitution upon being ratified by the Student Activity Committee, and upon being approved by all classes on the basis of a simple majority of each class.

Adopted in the Spring Quarter, 1948.

E. D. Net Squad Wins 3 Matches

By JOHN POSS

The Evening Division tennis team cracked the 1948 tennis season wide open recently with a pair of impressive wins in their initial appearances against Emory and the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary.

Headed by player-captain-coach Donald Floyd, Malcolm Manley, and Stanley Smith, the Owls defeated the Emory netmen by a 6-3 count Saturday, April 10, and then plastered the Federal Pen by a 6-1 margin the following day.

Coach Floyd's charges also shaded the University of Georgia tennis team 4-2 April 17 in Athens. The Evening Division netmen encountered Oglethorpe University, at Oglethorpe, on Saturday, April 24, and they journeyed to Savannah and Brunswick April 25 and 26, where they challenged two local net teams.

These opening victories, piled upon the triumphs of all teams since 1939, ran the string of matches won by the Evening Division tennis players to a grand total won by the Evening Division tennis players to a grand total of 50 games in the past 9 years. The team has tasted defeat only five times during this period.

Last year the Evening Division team faced some of the toughest competition that could be found in the entire Southeast and they emerged victorious in all five of their contests.

Coach Floyd picks the Georgia team as the outfit that will be most likely to defeat his squad this season.

The team practices every Monday and Wednesday night in the school auditorium-gymnasium. This gymnasium houses the only indoor tennis court in the city.

Every man on the present team, with the exception of Mutt Corlay, played for the school last Spring.

Members of the tennis team are: Jim Daly; Malcolm Manley; Mutt Corlay; Clack Tucker; Stanley Smith; David Rives; and Donald Floyd.

ter, Wednesday night, May 26, at which time all students will be given the opportunity to vote in their 6 p.m. classes. The candidates will be introduced to all classrooms, the ballots distributed, and then collected during the same 6 p.m. class period.

Approximately 1,300 students voted in this election last year, and student leaders have expressed the hope that at least a thousand more than this number will exercise their right to vote this year.

The meeting places for the various classes will be announced by notices to be read by all teachers on the night of the nominations.

For the benefit of those who may have forgotten to which class they belong, the following is a listing of the classes together with the number of courses covered by each class.

Freshman: 0 to 7.4 courses; Sophomore, 7.5 to 14.9 courses; Pre-Junior: 15 to 22.4 courses; Junior, 22.5 to 29.9 courses; and Senior: 30 to 39 courses.

In these nomination meetings, the floor is open to nominations of any eligible student by any member of that particular class. There is no nominating committee, and the meeting is conducted by Robert's Rules of Order for general meetings. The nominees are discussed at the meeting, and a show-of-hands vote is taken to determine the nominee for that particular class.

Mark Morris, president of the E. D. Student Council, is in charge of the election proceedings.

School Has Half-Hour Radio Show

Two o'clock on Sundays over WFOM, Marietta, is Atlanta Division, University of Georgia time.

The first half-hour program was produced by a number of students and faculty members on May 2. A one-act play, "Box and Cox," by J. M. Morton, was directed by Dr. H. E. Smith. Participants included Colonel John Pruitt and Miss Johnnie L. Loughmiller. The play was done in cockney accent.

Skits, round-table discussions and debates will be produced, in which students and faculty will take part. Dr. H. E. Smith, director of the productions, hopes to have all departments of the school represented in broadcasts. He is being assisted at present by Miss Loughmiller and Val Moore.

Baker and Catherine Macris, production; and Betty Fields, publicity.

Tickets will be put on sale by school organizations for the play which will be presented in the University Theatre May 20-21-22 at 8:30 p.m.

NEW COURSE

Hulsey. The new course will be directed from the University of Georgia at Athens.

"The Board of Regents has appropriated $25,000 for pianos for the music department and $64,000 more has been budgeted for the commerce school under Professor Manners," Dr. Sparks reported.

The director said the school would soon have anything a campus school has and students would not have to go off to get courses in arts, music and commerce.

Referring to the new building, he said the library would be constructed first and above it a little theater "for this school and others to use."

"The engineers are seeing just how high the building can be built. We'll build the first two floors and then add about ten more. Each story of the new building will cover an acre of land. The present building covers about four-and-a-half acres."

Dr. Sparks told the students the school is trying to get up

NOMINATIONS

Student Council members asked the two representatives if they weren't trying to "stir up a stink." "We need a stink," returned Griffin.

"Sure, we need to get 'em (the student body) hot under the collar to get them interested."

A heated discussion followed, during which other representatives remarked that the charges were "ridiculous."

After being asked by President Jimmy Troy to retract their charges, Chambers and Griffin replied that they would first get the general opinion of the student body and the classes they represent and give their decisions at a following meeting.
